400 FELONS RIOT AT MICHIGAN PRISON

EX-GI HUK LEADER SEES WIFE. Former U.S. Air Force enlisted man William Pomeroy, who became a leader in the communist-inspired Hukbalahap movement in the Philippines after his discharge embraces his Filipino wife, Celia Mariano, in a dramatic meeting following their capture. She was apprehended a few days after Philippine army units brought him out of the hills, and they met briefly at Camp Murphy in Northern Luzon before being placed in separate cells to await trial for rebellion, arson and murder with a possibility of a death sentence. Pomeroy's home was in Waterloo, N. Y.

Start Action In Senate On Steel Dispute

GOP Leaders Aim To Block Truman's Plans To Enforce Seizure

WASHINGTON (AP)—An angry, Republican-led Senate group claimed it had a good chance today of pushing through a two-pronged drive to block President Truman from enforcing his seizure of the steel mills.

Members of the group said they had growing Democratic support in a fight to amend a pending appropriations bill so it would:

1. Forbid use of any federal funds for salaries of officials to run the steel mills under seizure; introduced by Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich).

2. Deny use of any federal funds, regardless of the source, to seize or operate any plant without specific consent from Congress. This tougher version was proposed by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), a leader in the anti-seizure maneuvering.

The proposed amendments would be tacked onto a 960-million-dollar bill to finance operations of most government agencies until June 30. Among them is the Commerce Department, operating the seized steel mills under Truman's orders. The bill is now before the Senate.

Raise Legality Issue

Knowland's Senate forces contend Truman had no legal right to seize the plants, and say the government has no authority now to grant steel workers any pay raise while it is operating the mills.

Before today's session began, Knowland said an effort would be made to push through the Ferguson amendment first, his own later.

Meanwhile, there was no major development on the steel front itself. Mills continued to operate under nominal government management. As far as was known, no new labor-union talks were scheduled.

Prpspects of a showdown on the wage issue today or Tuesday faded with an announcement by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer that nothing had been decided yet.

Sawyer was reported earlier to have pased on an ultimatum from Truman to the steel companies to come to an agreement with the CIO Steelworkers by Monday or Tuesday or the government would raise wages.

However, Sawyer said Sunday on a television program (NBC's Meet The Press) that this was not correct. He said there would "certainly be some wage increase" but he did not say how much, or when it would be granted.

Up To Truman

In fact, he aded, the amount had not been decided upon by the President, who would make

Will Advance on "Enemy" Position

Paratroopers To Jump Behind Hot Spot After A-Bomb Drop Tuesday

ATOM BOMB SITE, Nev. (AP)—History's first atomic smoke jumpers, with one eye on the weather, made final preparations today for their spectacular part in Exercise Desert Rock IV.

Scientists and military men promised to provide a nuclear test guaranteed to furnish thrills for more than 300 invited observers tomorrow — if murky clouds and tricky winds will dissipate.

The maneuvers against "enemy" positions behind imaginary hills on Yucca flat will involve an atom bomb drop of more than ordinary proportions between 9 and 10 a.m., Pacific standard time, (12 noon-1 p.m., EST).

Nearly 1,500 troops—dug into four-foot deep foxholes about three miles from ground zero—will attack the enemy positions. As the troops advance to ground zero, four C-46 planes will drop 120 selected paratroopers of the 504th Regiment, 82nd Airborne Division, well behind the enemy lines.

Then the two elements will combine to wipe out the enemy stronghold.

Winds Could Scotch Plans

That's the tactical problem which has been set up. But if winds run more than 15 miles per hour or clouds continue to hang low, the paratroopers may stay on the ground. A C-47 medical ship will evacuate any casualties.

Ahead of the dug-in combat battalion will be machineguns, small planes and trucks. They will be inspected before the blast, then re-examined afterward to determine the effects of the thrust, heat and radiation of the bomb.

Press and civilian defense observers will have a grandstand seat eleven miles from ground zero on News Nob, the natural promontory just in front of the control building.

Before ground troops advance or paratroopers jump, radiological safety monitors will move into no-man's land with ion chambers and Geiger counters to make sure that it is safe to occupy. This may be an hour after the detonation.

Morale Booster

Brig. Gen. Harry P. Storke, who plans to be in a front-line foxhole, says the maneuver—besides its tactical aspect — also seeks to brace the morale of the atomic GIs and show what equipment can take in a nuclear blast.

The infantrymen might find their advance guns still usable, Gen. Storke says, adding quickly however—"if the guns are still there."

Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission inspected the site, along with newsmen. It was his first visit since last fall's series.

"I felt I hould come out with all these governors around," Dean said. Actually, only four governors are on hand, but most sent their civilian defense chiefs.

Dean indicated this blast "could be a big one." The bomb which tested troops last year broke seven windows in Las Vegas, 75 miles to the southeast.

The bomb, in all probability, will be dropped by an Air Force plane from Kirtland Air Base, Albuquerque. It will receive logistic support from planes at Indian Springs Air Force Base here.

About 3,000 troops will stand by at Camp Desert Rock, 20 miles behind the "battlefield," to lend engineering and supply support.

Political Eyes Turn To Idaho Voting Today

Seen as Prelude To Elections In New York, Penna.

By The Associated Press

Idaho Democrats pick a dozen presidential-nominating delegates today as a sort of prelude to similar but bigger-scale doings Tuesday in Pennsylvania and New York.

The Idaho Delegation to the National Convention in Chicago will be chosen at a state convention in Lewiston. Despite wooing by Sens. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, the group is expected to be uninstructed on how to cast its 12 votes next July.

Many more delegate votes are riding on the outcome of Tuesday's primaries in Pennsylvania and New York. In Pennsylvania, Republicans and Democrats elect 60 district delegates each—10 at-large delegates each already have been chosen. New York names 96 Republican and 94 Democratic delegates.

Delegates Uninstructed

Both parties in both states will send their delegates to Chicago without instructions.

New York Gov. Thomas Dewey's backing of Dwight Eisenhower seemed to assure the general the bulk of the GOP votes there, but backers of Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio were claiming 20 delegates. W. Averell Harriman, the administration's foreign aid chief, seemed to have the New York Democratic delegate votes cornered.

In Pennsylvania's presidential preference primary there were only two names on the ballot, both Republicans—Eisenhower and former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota. Taft bowed out, saying it was a waste of time and money inasmuch as results are not binding on delegates.

Pennsylvania Democrats had no presidential hopefuls on the ballot for whom to express a preference. However, backers of Kefauver were looking for a number of write-ins for their man.

PEACE SIGNING SET

BONN, Germany, (AP) — U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson has informed Chancellor Konrad Adenauer he will come to Europe between May 10-20 to sign the peace contract with west Germany, government sources said today.

Four Guards Being Held As Hostages

Cordon of Troopers Rings Walls; Brutality Charged by Convicts

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Rioting spread in the beleaguered Southern Michigan prison today while convicts on a mutiny held four guards as hostages.

Three prison guards were injured trying to subdue rebellious convicts in the prison mess hall at breakfast.

Yelling rioters seized the mess hall, driving out the guards, and at the same time another group of prisoners took over a mental ward.

Two other guards were reported in the second flareup.

An estimated 400 prisoners were said to be involved in the two new outbreaks at the big prison, one of America's largest.

As tension mounted by the minute, armed state police took stations on the prison roof.

The troopers, under command of Capt. William Hansen, were under orders of "don't shoot until further orders."

The police had been mobilized at the Jackson post near the prison as the crisis grew during the night.

Twelve hours after the first riot broke out Saturday night four guards were still held as hostages by the original mutineers.

The four were prisoners of convicts in an isolated cell block reserved for the toughest criminals.

Leads Mutiny

Notorious "Crazy Jack" Hyatt, robber who once tried to escape by making Gov. G. Mennen Williams a hostage at knife-point, was leader of these mutineers.

Brutality, they claim, caused the mutiny. They wanted publicity. They even forced authorities to call in a newsman to talk to them. They made a hostage guard, a knife at his throat, pose for photographers at a barred cell window.

There are 179 convicts in the five-tier cell block, all but 29 of them there for violating prison rules of discipline. Guards reported, however, that a group of 15 or so seemed to be fomenters of the uprising.

Warden Julian N. Frisbie reported nine hours after the guards were seized: "Everything is under control. It's a matter of sweating (waiting) them out now. The building is surrounded and there is plenty of artillery trained on it."

He denied emphatically any brutality. So did other officials.

While claiming brutality caused the mutiny, the rebellious convicts wouldn't say on what terms they would call it off and free the guards.

The convicts denied there was any connection between their mutiny and riots in New Jersey prisons, where barricaded convicts have been demanding an end of alleged beatings, an outside investigation and better food. Currently 231 are in the third day of a mutiny at Rahway. Another such ended Friday at Trenton.

Tough Customer

Hyatt, whose real name is Jack, pulled a knife and attempted to use Governor G. Mennen Williams as a shield in an escape attempt at Michigan's Marquette State Prison July 8, 1950. A guard with the governor on an inspection tour, overpowered Hyatt.

He is 29 and is serving 25 to 30 years for armed robbery, having been sent up from Detroit Sept. 18, 1945. He has served two other prison terms and a deportation warrant awaits him, if he's ever released, as an undesirable alien from Canada. He was transferred here Dec. 16, 1950.

The rioters picked Earl E. Ward, 38, serving 15 to 30 years for armed robbery from Detroit, as their spokesman. His deputy was Russell Jarbo, serving auto theft and breaking and entering terms running from 4 to 15 years. Jarbo was convicted in Jackson.

Grabbing and overpowering the guards at 7:20 p.m. (EST) Sunday, the convicts called the prison office on the inter-prison telephone system to announce their mutiny and to make demands.

Get us, they said, assistant warden George Bacon, chairman of the prison's disciplinary board, and a newspaperman—"a representative of the Associated Press."

Subpena Grain Men To Testify On Shortages

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigating senators today urged nine officials of private grain storage firms to testify publicly about how shortages developed in government grain they stored.

The Agriculture committee under chairman Ellender (D-La) is probing widespread shortages of some eight million dollars worth of government-owned grain and commodities.

"We are bringing these men here under subpena in hopes they know the inside of these transactions and can really give Congress some help," Paul J. Cotter, chief counsel for the Senate probe of the Agriculture department, told a reporter.

Cotter said the nine officials represent six private storage and warehouse firms found to be short. Several of them are in Texas. Names of the firms and officials will be withheld until they are placed under oath to testify.

Cotter said some of the nine grain storage men are under indictment, others have settled their cases in federal courts and all will be asked to help Congress and the department expose and prevent future shortages.

The Agriculture Department acquired the grain and other products under its price-support program and then stored it with private warehouse and elevator firms.

Some storage men, looking for prices to drop, sold the government grain expecting to replace it later at a lower price and net a profit. Instead grain prices shot up and the storage men were unable to replace the grain or pay the difference.

4 Die, 50 Hurt In Accident On Speedway

Racing Car Goes Out Of Control at Dayton, Ploughs Into Crowd

DAYTON, O. (AP) — A racing car spun crazily out of control into the Dayton Speedway grandstand Sunday.

When it came to rest, four persons were dead — including the driver, Gordon Reid, 29, of Burbank, Calif —and at least 50 spectators were hurt.

It was one of the worst accidents on American tracks since 1929, when four persons were killed and 20 hurt at Winchester, Ind.

The crash lopped off Reid's head. It also decapitated Mrs Ruby Ellen Shaffer, 43, of Springfield. The other victims were Robert Thatcher, 22, a track guard, and Gene Lawson, 19, of Dayton.

Some among the 14,000 attending the opening AAA sprint car program at the speedway had narrow escapes.

"God must have been sitting there with me," said Herman Cottrell, 40, a spectator. "I saw him leave the track I turned and jumped as far as I could."

Cancer Crusade Sets Countywide Campaign

If every Marion city and county resident doesn't hear about cancer some time this week it won't be the fault of Cancer Crusade Chairman Jackson H. Taft and hundreds of volunteer workers assisting him in an annual campaign.

Every home visited will be given opportunity to do two things:

1. Make a contribution toward the $9,000 fund sought in Marion County to help fight cancer locally and on a national basis.

2. Receive a folder that will help its readers to avoid being the "one in five" that cancer strikes. The emphasis in this educational effort is to encourage examinations for early detection and treatment of cancer in its controllable stages.

A many-sided campaign is scheduled. It includes the following highlights:

Three hundred twenty-five women will make a house-to-house campaign Thursday between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m., soliciting donations and handing out folders.

Scores of volunteers in the townships will be making calls at the same time, but many have already begun work and will continue through the week because of the travel distances involved.

A cancer tag day drive will be conducted in Marion Saturday to augment the funds needed to reach the $9,000 goal.

An industrial division committee headed by Jack Bray Jr. has begun solitication of gifts from the industries of Marion County.

Cancer campaign blotters are being distributed this week via utilities companies and supermarkets, on a plan worked out by John Dugan and LeRoy Clauer.

Posters are on display in dozens of business places, distributed by a Lions Club committee headed by Robert Morrison.

The retail solicitation group headed by Bert Freed is calling on Marion retailers for contributions.

Clubs and organizations have been given opportunity by letters to make donations to the cancer fund.

Churches throughout the county were asked to make announce-

13-Year-Old Girl Admits Setting Fire To Two Churches

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Charlotte police are holding a pretty, revenge-driven bobby-soxer as the incendiary who set several fires at churches here causing an estimated $75,000 in damages.

Detective Capt. Bill McCall said that blonde, 13-year-old Margie Davis, a junior high school student, admitted that she was responsible for the fires last week at St. Martin's Episcopal Church and at Caldwell Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Margie said she had been denied use of the table tennis table at St. Martin's and had been refused permission to use the telephone at Caldwell Memorial. She said that she wanted to "get even" for the rebuffs and had hit on the idea of firing the churches.

Hunger May Break Prison Rebellion

RAHWAY, N.J. (AP) — With hunger and thirst as their allies, Rahway state prison officials waited patiently today for a break in a four-day rebellion of 231 hard-bitten convicts.

The revolt is the longest in a series of five prison outbreaks in the state. A similar mutiny by 69 convicts at Trenton State Prison, 40 miles to the south, ended Friday after 77 hours. The Rahway uprising equalled this mark at 2 a.m.

Barricaded in a dormitory wing, the prisoners were promised they would receive no corporal punishment if they surrendered without harming their eight guard hostages.

The desperate convicts, vowing "victory or death" in their mutiny,

Yank Pilots Take On 100 MIGs, Bag 7

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — U.S Sabre jet pilots today shot down seven and damaged six Communist MIG jets, the Fifth Air Force announced.

The Air Force said the Russian-made jets were bagged in three separate aerial duels involving 100 Red planes.

The day's biggest fight produced America's 11th jet ace—Capt. Robert J. Love, San Bernardino, Calif. He shot down two MIGs in a battle involving 28 sabres and 50 MIGs, the Air Force said. Three other MIGs were shot down — three were damaged and one of the Reds' new fast type 15 jets was hit in this scrap. It raged 30 minutes from 40,000 feet down to treetop level.

Neither Side Yields In Truce Deadlock

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — Each side today refused to recognize that problems exist on the two deadlocked issues in Korean truce talks. There was no hint of compromise.

Col. Don O. Darrow, a United Nations Command staff officer, said the Communists refused to "discuss or even acknowledge" the issue of military airfield construction in Korea in the event of an armistice.

Staff officers discussing truce supervision stayed in session an hour and four minutes Monday.

Kansas City Area Nears Flood Crisis

Army Air Field Threatened; More Rain Forecast

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Army, augmented by civilian workers, carried on a grim battle today to save the Sherman Air Field of historic Fort Leavenworth from the unruly Missouri River.

Some 1,600 men sloughed through mud in a chilly rain, bolstering a three-mile stretch of dikes against the tremendous river pressure.

It was a dangerous hand-to-hand struggle.

Flood waters behind the dikes stood as much as nine feet above the level of the air field. Lifeboats were kept at hand. Most of the work was done without aid of machine. The field was too soggy for trucks.

Fort Leavenworth is about 25 miles northwest of Kansas City. The critical area along the flooding Missouri is now between St Joseph, Mo., and Kansas City.

If the dike at the north end of Sherman Field gives way, the water probably will cut a new river channel across the field leaving part of it an island, flood fighters reported.

The around-the-clock activity was carried on at night under strings of lights.

"It looks like a beach operation in New Guinea," an observer said. "We've got the water and

Council Takes Up Daylight Time Tonight

City Council in a special session tonight will discuss daylight savings time.

Original purpose of the meeting was to pass on the purchase of bonds to finance the city's new sewage disposal plant. But the daylight savings time issue is expected to take the spotlight.

Many Marion residents are expected to jam the small Municipal Court room in order to voice their views on the time change. It was brought up for consideration by Louis Conkle, Fourth Ward Council member, at a regular meeting of Council last week.

Daylight savings time moves the clock back an hour. If passed, it would mean Marion residents would have to get up an hour earlier for an hour more of daylight in the evening.

At least one petition is being circulated opposing a switch to the new time. Fred Thacker, manager of Marion's two drive-in theaters, said he will present a petition against the move to council.

First action of council will be to approve the sale of $600,000 in bonds to finance the construction of a new sewage disposal plant. City Auditor Elmer Shaw opened bids on the sale at noon today.

Swimming Warning Given by Sheriff

Near 80 degree temperatures Sunday brought out several swimmers at quarries around Marion, Sheriff LeRoy Retterer reported.

He said he received several calls reporting boys swimming in unguarded quarries. Sheriff Retterer said that besides being dangerous it's against the law.

Sheriff Retterer did not make any arrests but warned the boys of the danger of swimming where there is no supervision.

Church Lays Cornerstone For Building

Ceremonies for laying of the cornerstone for a new educational unit of Emanuel Lutheran Church were conducted Sunday following the regular morning worship hour with attendance of more than 800. Music was by the Intermediate and Senior Choirs.

First trowel of mortar was placed by the pastor, the Rev. M. E. Hollensen, with additional mortar placed by Lloyd Johnston, chairman of the building committee, and Ray Geer, assistant, Raymond Roecker, chairman of the finance committee, Willis Rider, elder, representing the Vestry, Carl Campbell, Sunday School superintendent, Charles Oborn, architect, and Fred Baldauf, contractor.

Sealed in a copper box and placed in the cornerstone were a copy of the Bible, an alphabetical list of members of the congregation, and historical documents including records of interest concerning the congregation. It is expected that the $225,000 building will be completed by October.

Britain Given Veto Power Over U.S. Use of A-Bomb

Vandenberg Papers Tell of Secret Agreement Between Churchill, Roosevelt on Atom Warfare

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Britain held veto power over American use of the atomic bomb for several years during and after World War II, but lost it with the ending of the atomic partnership of the United States, Britain and Canada.

In proposing to create a new partnership a few years ago, President Truman told congressional leaders in secrecy that he wanted to share all U.S. atomic weapon secrets with Britain and Canada. Republican leaders strongly objected.

This information bearing on a major phase of American atomic policy development has been brought to light with the release of "The Private Papers of Sen. Vandenberg," a volume of personal and official records from the files of the late Republican foreign affairs leader in the Senate.

The 599-page book, edited by the senator's son and long-time assistant, Arthur H. Vandenberg Jr., covers the whole range of American foreign policy from Pearl Harbor to the time of the senator's death one year ago. The perspective is that of a man who first went through a personal revolution from "isolationism" to "internationalism" and then, beginning about the time of the San Francisco U.N. conference, played a vital role in the shaping of many great decisions.

Although he was a Republican —or because he was a Republican devoted to bipartisan support of foreign policy — Vandenberg advised the Truman administration on foreign affairs repeatedly and even shared in some of its secrets at election campaign time.

Secret Meeting

In 1948, a critical period for the President at home and abroad, Vandenberg and Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex) were summoned secretly to the White House one evening to learn that President Truman was greatly disturbed about the Russian blockade of Berlin and was thinking about telephoning directly to Premier Stalin "to see what he could do with him."

Vandenberg noted in his diary that the President appeared "anxious to do something" for peace and also seemed to be aware that his election campaign (which at the time most people thought was a lost cause) "sadly needed a shot in the arm."

It was not until later that Vandenberg learned, from the newspapers, that Truman had contemplated sending Chief Justice Fred Vinson on a peace mission to Moscow and hand given up the idea when Gen. George C. Marshall, then secretary of state, opposed it. The idea of a telephone call, which actually never came off as far as the record shows, then was judged by Vandenberg to have been a substitute for the discarded Vinson mission.

The Vandenberg disclosures on atomic energy policy and proposals were checked by this reporter with administration officials in position to know the facts and to have a viewpoint different from that of the late senator. The inquiries showed that the information in the book was checked with responsible officials prior to publication and therefore may be taken as substantially the same as the facts shown by official records.

Feared Repercussions

There was some speculation here that there might be repercussions in Britain from the disclosure that London had and lost a voice in use of the A-bomb. However, it was pointed out that the British have long since accustomed themselves to basic changes in Anglo-American relationships which have occurred in this field since the war.

The essence of the information respecting the veto is that the late President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill entered into secret arrangements at Quebec and at Hyde Park, N. Y. In the midyears of the war for the joint development and control of atomic energy.

These arrangements which were privy to very few high government officials apparently did not become known to Republican leaders in Congress, and perhaps to Democrats as well, until some time in the first part of 1947 when Vandenberg, then chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) learned about them.

They learned that along with providing for the sharing of facts on atomic development, the joint sharing of uranium ore from the Belgian Congo and the joint promotion of the atomic program, agreement had been made that neither the U.S. nor Britain would use the A-bomb unless both agreed.

At the time the information became known to the Republicans the United States was in fact already going it alone in this field, the partnership between America and Britain, shared also by Canada, having practically broken up.

Vandenberg and Hickenlooper were therefore shocked to learn that while Congress had been working on the assumption that the President had final decision on the use of atomic weapons the United States was technically bound to consult the British before making the decision.

The two Republicans brought considerable pressure on the administration to change this, the book shows, and in January, 1948, the veto agreement was finally ended in a new understanding among the three wartime partners which had the effect of placing ultimate decision on using the A-bomb with the President.

Under the 1948 arrangement, Britain could obtain little information about U.S. atomic projects and undertook to develop its own weapons.

This threatened to cut into the volume of uranium ore which the U.S. required for its own program, and, according to Vandenberg's account, this was the main argument used by the President at a Blair House meeting in July, 1949, for reviving the three-power partnership.

The President argued that to cut the British and Canadians in on developments in this country would do away with the need for them to have independent programs, would assure full access to Congo ore, would concentrate weapons manufactured in this country, and would give the United States the benefit of British and Canadian research.

Vandenberg opposed the sharing and contended that in view of all the United States had done for Britain in the economic field the British government should be willing to forego its claims on heavy supplies of uranium in order to avoid upsetting American weapons production.

(Despite lack of agreement with all congressional leaders, Truman did initiate talks later in 1949 with Britain and Canada but the whole partnership project was finally shelved some months later after the Fuchs spy case had persuaded both British and American officials that Congress would not take kindly to the idea of sharing America's atomic secrets with any other country.)

In September, 1949, the Russians pulled off their first atomic explosion and Vandenberg and other interested congressional authorities were told about it in advance of public announcement. Vandenberg commented in his diary as to its significance:

"We had a meeting of the atomic energy committee in secret this morning (and a very solemn one) regarding the Russian development — it's far from certain precisely what the Russians have other than man-made means of exploding nuclear fission with vast resultant radio reaction. It was (a fairly short time), in our own case, after our original experimental explosion before we tried any actual bomb. Then it's many months before there can be real bomb production in minimum quantities.

"But the Russians have had (many thousands of) men at work on the job and the benefit of many top-notch German scientists whom they virtually kidnaped. In any event, this is now a different world. The new problems are appalling. Where do we go from here and what do we do about it?"

In 1804, Alexander Hamilton, then governor of New York, was killed in a duel at Weehauken, N.J., with Aaron Burr, then vice president of the United States.

Look who's crowding "the low-priced three"

THE price of a car has a lot to do with the number of folks who can afford to own it.

So the leaders in sales—for almost a generation—have been three cars whose bid for popularity has included a potent price appeal.

But who do you think is right on their heels? Who has led the field, outside "the low-priced three"—ever since 1938?

Well, sir, the name is Buick.

You get more power. You get "big-car feel."

You get an honest-to-goodness Million Dollar Ride.

You get, in other words, an all-round money's worth of great engineering that makes any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—a standout buy in its field.

That's not just our say-so. It's what car buyers have said with their hard-earned dollars, year after year.

We think you ought to find out for yourself what these other folks have discovered.

We think you ought to find out why so many Buick buyers are trading in one of the so-called "low-priced three."

We think you ought to compare the size, compare the performance, compare the price, because we know what you'll find out:

If you can afford a new car, you can afford a Buick.

Why not find out for yourself what's behind this popularity?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster only.

ONLY BUICK PROVIDES THEM ALL
DYNAFLOW DRIVE*—great boon to easier driving, played on more than a million Buicks
FIREBALL 8 ENGINE—at valve-in-head design makes high compression count for more
NEW WIDE-BAND BRAKES—for smoother, more positive control
MILLION DOLLAR RIDE—with 4 wheel coil springing and road steady torque tube
TOP-CAPACITY TRUNKS—more luggage room than ever in most models
NEW TWO-TONE INTERIORS—in most models, grace Buick's Body by Fisher
SWEEPSPEAR STYLING—adds gleaming smartness to all models
Plus These, Too, On ROADMASTER†
AIRPOWER CARBURETION—with highest horsepower in Buick history
MORE MILES PER GALLON
POWER STEERING†—greatly eases parking and turning, without losing that firm feel
SILENCE—so complete you can speak in whispers under way.

Mt. Gilead Church Gets New Pastor

Special To The Star

MT. GILEAD — The First Presbyterian Church here has called the Rev. William W. Harvey of Milford, Mich., to fill the pulpit, left vacant when Rev. Byron D. Hughes resigned to accept a position in the Central Presbyterian Church, Eugene, Ore., last October.

Rev. and Mrs. Harvey visited Mt. Gilead Feb. 10, and he has conferred with officers of the local church on several occasions. At the Congregational meeting Feb. 24, Rev. Harvey received a unanimous vote by the congregation. He secured his education at Iowa State College, University of Nebraska and McCormick Theological Seminary from which he graduated in 1941.

Besides serving during the summer vacation periods in National Missions Rural Area Work he has since served two churches in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, and since November 1946 at his recent charge at Milford. Rev. Harvey has served in executive capacities in the various Presbyteries in which he has been located, and has done outstanding work in the development of youth activities, particularly in camp and conference work.

The family will move during the week of April 20, and he will take over the work here on Sunday, April 27. The Harveys have two daughters, ages 3 and 5. Mrs. Harvey's former home was near Bloomville, Ohio. She is a graduate of Ohio State University with both Bachelor's and Master's Degrees, and had several years teaching in Ohio high schools.

Formal installation service will be announced shortly.

Will It Hold Up?

Big Boom In Housing In Spite Of Controls Has Builders Guessing

.. By WILLIAM KERWIN

WASHINGTON—(INS)— This 1952 housing boom, now underway in most sections of the country, has a lot of building experts puzzled. Will it last or will forecasts of a declining realty market pan out?

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports housing output—for the third straight month—increased 27 per cent in March. The 98,000 new dwellings started last month compares with 77,000 in February and 93,800 in March a year ago.

Government and industry officials concede builders will start about one million new homes and apartments in 1952, making this the third and possibly the second best housing year in history, despite federal controls.

In fact, the home building industry is going great guns compared with the dire predictions of a few months ago. But government experts say builders could do better. They wonder why housing output isn't higher.

Certainly, one top federal housing official says, government credit and materials controls aren't holding builders back. The concensus is that the watered-down regulations are doing a poor job, at best.

If this is true, then there really isn't anything restricting housing output except, perhaps, the supply of mortgage loan money and maybe the availability of buyers.

The supply of mortgage money, however, is improving——rapidly. Government and private lending groups verify this. So do some builders. The nub of the problem appears to center with buyers.

More importantly, federal officials say the big postwar demand for luxury homes and houses for middle-income families is coming to a close. In succeeding months it may be harder to sell this type of property.

THAT DOESN'T MEAN there is going to be a building depression but federal officials say the market for housing by the end of the year definitely will switch to low-income families. They say BLS housing statistics support this view.

The National Association of Home Builders appear to have recognized the handwriting on the wall and is spearheading the trend toward lower-cost homes for the millions of families who still can and want to buy a reasonably priced house.

But NAHB officials disagree that housing output is headed for any decline. They maintain there is a demand for one million homes a year at least until 1960, and they are determined to build them.

Interestingly, government officials say they do not think removal of housing credit controls will stimulate the market too much right now, but they still want the regulation continued because of the steel wage-price debacles and the ever present threat of new inflation.

Public housing construction zoomed upward last month at a far faster clip than private home building. Officials say there is a big backlog of public housing that will move into the building stage from now on.

BLS reports 12,000 publicly owned housing units were started in March as compared with 6,100 dwellings in the first two months of this year. The bureau notes that starts for the first quarter totaled 18,100 public housing units as against 11,400 for the same period a year ago.

In discussing private home building, BLS says 225,000 new homes and apartments were put into construction in the first three months, about ten per cent below rates in 1951.

The agency adds, however, that "if the level of private activity . . . continues for the remaining three quarters of this year, 1952 will nevertheless be another million-unit year for new private housing."

THE COMMERCE Department says spending by public institutions on construction last year jumped about 27 per cent over 1950, but outlays by private builders remained relatively unchanged

Commerce estimates total construction for the country jumped about seven per cent, amounting to 29 billion, 863 million dollars with only the Middle Atlantic States, New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania, showing declines.

ELECTED BY SURPRISE

MIDDLETON, Mass. (UP) — Michael Lavorgno, the town barber, was elected cemetery commissioner without knowing that he was a candidate in the town election. Friends of Lavorgno took advantage of the fact there was no formal candidate for the job and secretly printed stickers which were distributed to voters. Lavorgno received 53 votes to defeat a scattering of "write-in" nominees

The ring-necked pheasant, imported into the United States from China and England has become the most common game bird in this country.

Dean Park Of OSU Dies

Held Post Since Its Creation in 1929

COLUMBUS (AP) — Memorial services for Dean Joseph A. Park, 58, dean of men at Ohio State University, will be held at 9:30 a m. Tuesday in First Community Church.

Dean Park, the first dean of men Ohio State ever had, died late Saturday at his Columbus home. He had been in failing health for a year.

Park was graduated from Ohio State in 1920, and immediately became executive secretary of the university's YMCA, a post he held for seven years. He was named student counselor, forerunner to the dean of men's post, in 1927. Two years later he became dean of men.

Dean Park was treasurer of the executive committee of the Ohio-West Virginia area YMCA from 1934 until his death. He also was a past president of the National Association of Deans and Advisors of Men and of the National Conference of College Fraternities and Societies.

He received an honorary doctorate from Bowling Green State University in 1949, and in 1951 was voted the gold medal award of the National Interfraternity Conference for "distinguished service to youth."

Dr. Howard L. Bevis, university president, said today:

"Joe Park helped to build the Ohio State University. He understood young men and knew how to guide their youthful energies into constructive channels. He was always available for counsel and his counsel was understanding and wise. His geniality, his humor, his sincere and friendly personality will be sadly missed from our campus. A light has gone out but it has kindled other torches which will be passed down the years."

Dean Park is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Park, and two daughters, Miss Mary Esther Park of Columbus and Mrs. Glenn Varney of Cleveland.

The Road to Good Government

MARION County's League of Women Voters rates as one of the most important public service organizations in the community and indications are it will become steadily more important as the years pass.

It has just completed one of its major election year activities by distributing thousands of copies of a two-page sheet carrying information about candidates for county and district offices and listing their views and opinions on the public's principal needs. In this distribution the league has had the valuable assistance of Boy Scouts and their leaders, another very important public service group which needs no introduction.

No doubt citizens will make good use of these information sheets before going to cast their ballots in the May primary election. That, of course, is the one big purpose in preparation of the information, which was gathered and compiled through the expenditure of much time and effort.

Too often people go to the polls inadequately informed about candidates and issues. It has not been unusual to hear some one say, upon leaving the voting booth, "Why, I didn't know more than a couple of those candidates. With the others I just picked out names that seemed familiar and took a chance on picking the ones best-fitted for the jobs."

That, you might say, is blind voting. Something like going on a blind date and discovering that the pal passed off on you for the evening looks like a weird character out of a comic book.

Now the League of Women Voters gives everybody a chance to guard against blind voting. The information sheets just distributed provide a clear and comprehensive introduction to all the candidates and also offer at least a partial idea of what they regard as a public official's duties and obligations. Don't let the sheet you have received slip away without careful reading. Better still, read it now, then file it away and read it again just before you go to vote on May 6.

And of course you WILL VOTE. If you fail to do so you will be neglecting one of your most precious privileges—participation in control of your local government. And then if you discover that candidates have been nominated who do not meet with your approval, you have no right to complain nor criticize.

This is stated clearly and effectively by one county candidate who is unopposed for renomination and re-election. The question asked all candidates by the League of Women Voters was: "What do you consider the most important problem facing the county at this time?" This candidate's answer was: "Getting residents of Marion County, Ohio interested in their government and inducing them to vote."

It's Different Now

THIS current hue and cry for I-dotting and T-crossing by Gen. Eisenhower on every conceivable public issue is nonsense.

Gen. Eisenhower should recognize that his decision to come home from SHAPE and lend his presence to the attempt to nominate him for the Presidency has made a difference in his status.

No reasonable person expects him to go down the line with a statement on every public issue, including some which would be booby-trapped. But all reasonable persons interested in presidential politics would like to see the general get on a political footing. He should begin to assert himself on some of the issues of the times.

This would not be out of line with his inactive duty status. Warmed-over material from the general's speeches (all of them given, by the way, while he was a member of the armed forces) is doing him more harm than good.

Hypothetical Question

THERE was a flurry of excitement and anger last Thursday when newspapermen interviewing President Truman thought they heard him say he had power to seize newspapers and radio stations for the best interests of the country, if the question ever arose.

Later, it was denied that Mr. Truman said it. He was giving a hypothetical answer to a hypothetical question, it was explained.

Not many years ago if anyone had been silly enough to wonder out loud whether or not the Chief Executive of the United States could seize the steel industry because it refused to accept a government commission's recommendations for wage increases and working conditions;

And if someone had been silly enough to answer out loud that the Chief Executive of the United States could do this and also ram the commission's recommendations down the steel industry's throat before handing back its seized properties;

There would have been an explosion of excitement.

If a President of the United States a few years ago had so much as hinted the twitch of a whisker that he thought he had power to seize property at his own whim, someone would have demanded to know—"On what meat doth this our seizer feed, that he is grown so great?"

The Decisive Delegates

By Raymond Moley

Should Demand Eisenhower Statements

AFTER THE REMAINING primaries are over and June rests her soft hands over us all, and General Eisenhower comes back and rival supporters will be laying claims, the real follows will make this Republican decision. Those people will be the uninstructed and uncommitted delegates and also those who, while selected by conventions, have instructions they can disregard soon after the balloting starts. Those people will be men and women, even as you and I, with both a measurable sense of duty and a keen desire to make a successful choice. Let us consider what the bearing of their thinking may be in its relation to the Eisenhower candidacy. For that is something about which those delegates must think long and earnestly. The primaries will have given them, to use an Eisenhower expression, no clear call.

Despite the efforts of both Taft and Eisenhower people to glean beneficial data from the New Jersey primary result, the verdict of the cold, impartial reporter must be that it went as might have been expected. Primaries almost always go according to the specifications of the organization, or the machine, if you will. Only once in a blue moon can a superman arouse that sluggish species of citizenry who flatter themselves with the term "independent" to vote in large numbers and rebuke the machine. The almost invariable result is a light vote, mustered by the faithful lieutenants of the organization, which approves a judgment decreed by the party's governing authorities. So it was in New Hampshire and Illinois.

SO IT WAS in New Jersey. Governor Driscoll is no novice in practical politics. He has been elected and re-elected governor in a state where organization is important. He has whatever Republican patronage there is, which is considerable. There was no reason why Driscoll's choice should not prevail. Indeed, it would have been amazing if anything else had happened. The pro-Taft leaders were a scattering of people like ex-Senator Hawkes and Democratic ex-Governor Edison. Such scattered efforts can almost never prevail against an organization with the governor at its head.

Ohio will also run true to form. It will veer to Taft. And in Oregon the internationalist sentiment, together with the support of Oregon's governor, will be decisively against Taft. And so, after all the primary shooting is over, the decisive delegates will sit themselves down to their job.

The thinking of those delegates should take two lines. First, they should, as men and women of conscience, consider their duty to find out which candidate they believe to be most sound in his thinking and thus best for the American republic. Second, and equally important, is their duty to their party. They must select for their part the candidate they think will win the election.

PLEASE NOTE that I am referring here to the duty and obligation of delegates, not to the duty and obligation of General Eisenhower. There is a difference. The general apparently believes that he has no duty to be explicit about his views before the convention. He believes that such a confession of faith should come after the nomination. His managers, I surmise, have reached the very practical, not to say Machiavellian, decision that there is a better chance of nominating their man if they keep him quiet until the convention. I have no quarrel with that. These men are practical politicians fighting against the practical Taft politicians, and their conscience is their own to keep.

But a delegate may well feel, on both the grounds suggested above, that he must have something more definite from General Eisenhower than he has promised. And if enough delegates make that demand, the general had best think twice before refusing to tell where he stands on a lot of things.

Incident in Manteo

By TRUMAN TWILL

THE VILLAGE of Manteo, N. C., has been torn apart by a squabble which may have repercussions in sociology textbooks. It even may have repercussions sometime in your neighborhood.

Frank DeFablo and his wife Theo moved to Manteo a while back to live the simple life with their three children. Their philosophy was a mixture of John Stuart Mill, Herbert Spencer, Jean Jacques Rousseau and James Thoreau. They were screwballs, sure enough.

They believed, among other things, that if parents were qualified (Mrs. DeFablo was a graduate of Smith College) they should be allowed to teach their own children. This privilege was denied when Mrs. DeFablo applied for a teaching certificate.

They did not believe in haircuts, elaborate home furnishings or expensive clothing. They were willing to work in their own way, but they were unwilling to work for wages in factories; they prefered small-scale farming and beach-combing.

Some of the very best people in Manteo took it upon themselves to show the new residents the error of their ways. They made quite an affair of it, jailing Frank DeFablo for incompetency, vagrancy and violating the compulsary education law.

THEY TOOK AWAY the children. They broke up the family, but good. Mrs. DeFablo is now in Washington, D. C., driving a taxicab. Frank is trying to scratch out a living on his little place in Manteo. The three kids are in a foster home. Folks for miles around are chewing over an incident which has split them into factions.

There is one catch in the indictment of the DeFablos for not fitting in properly—the consensus of those who have known them and their children that here was a happy, smoothly-integrated and wholesome family. They were a darned sight better off in this respect than the families of some of their critics.

Somehow they had brought it off without overstuffed furniture, zippers, electric refrigerators, social security, a 40-hour week and grade cards. In everything that has been charged against them, no one has charged that the results of what they were doing were not all right. They just chose to get the results in the wrong way. For that they were given the crowd treatment.

They did not fit in. Their hair was too long, and their patience with busybodies was too short. Their bodies were not insulated against the weather by acceptable standards, though their hearts stayed warm. They had no respect for certain customs, but they would fight like wild beasts for their principles.

IT LOOKS AS IF the DeFablos are licked. Frank tried to take his own life while in jail; he has come unstuck. Theo is too busy racking up fares as a cabby to fight anymore. All their savings are gone, and so is most of their spunk. Society trimmed their ears.

In Manteo, S.C., they'll argue about the DeFablos for a long time to come. The same thing could happen anywhere, though—and may happen some time in your own community. Don't bet you won't be against John Stuart Mill, Herbert Spencer, Jean Jacques Rousseau and James Thoreau if it does happen—not at odds less than 50 to 1.

You already are against them, aren't you?

Call for Youth

BONN, GERMANY (AP)—The high mortality rate in the West German parliament has brought an urgent appeal for young people to get into politics. And, in fact, 22 members of the 402-member Bundestag have died since it was constituted in 1949. Only three of these have been accidental deaths. Alarmed by this and by the advanced age of many legislators, a 35-year-old deputy recently broadcast a radio plea for youth to get into politics "for the good of Germany and the European idea."

Two Sleepy People

The Case of Elia Kazan

By George E. Sokolsky

AMONG THE PROBLEMS facing motion pictures, radio and television is the unwillingness of many Americans to pay their money for entertainment with which persons accused of Communist affiliations have anything to do. This has become complicated since some voluntary organizations of the people throw picket lines around houses showing motion pictures so involved. It makes the product defective because it encounters unusual sales resistance.

On the other hand, some persons have been seeking ways and means of clearing themselves. They hired lawyers, public relations counsel and fixers. They ran down to Congressional committees for special hearings, issuing the published reports as though that cleared them. No Congressional committee is empowered to clear a witness. All that such a committee can do is to publish the hearings and the findings. Some even falsely stated that the FBI had cleared them of Communist taint, although such a function has never been delegated to the FBI.

Unfortunately, for a long time the management of the motion picture industry viewed this problem as a nuisance which interfered with their earnings. Most of their efforts to solve it failed because they did not recognize the fundamental proposition that whatever record exists was made by the individual concerned; that only he or she can set the record straight.

LAST SUMMER, some motion picture persons and a few anti-Communists entered upon discussions which involved certain techniques of life that have had long application. Confession, contrition and penitence are universal among human beings. But these processes are only of value if they are voluntary and if they safeguard human dignity.

Furthermore, it has been known that while a number of persons were sucked into the Communist orbit in the 1930s and moved through Rooseveltian liberalism in the 1940s, the Korean War opened their eyes to the absurdity of their views on Russia. Many emotions enter into such a situation, particularly among artists and intellectuals. It takes a truly great soul to admit that he had been a fool. St. Augustine did it and Tolstoy did it. But few men are of their stature.

So, a device was worked out to give a man a chance to set himself right by his own means, without the intervention of any third person. No formula was adopted, for none was necessary. If a man wants to tell the truth, he needs no assistance.

In the instance of the motion picture people, it was suggested that they write letters to their employers or to anyone of their selection. The employers were best, because they could make the letters available to interested parties.

IT WAS PREFERRED that this should be a studio rather than an industry task, because it seemed undesirable to set up a bureau and to hire checkers, clearers, private detectives and such persons. The real task is to avoid coercion, pressure, money-payments, or anything of the sort. Only a voluntary approach to a changed life can produce the truth.

Among the anti-Communists there are many sincere persons who question the bona fides of some conversions. Yet, the fact remains that the converts from Communism have done an invaluable service in the exposure and operations of the Communist conspiracy.

Now, we come to Elia Kazan. This man was a Communist from 1934 to 1936 by his own admission. He has appeared in executive session before the House Committee on un-American Activities, where his testimony was incomplete. Subsequently he filed an affidavit completing his story. He said:

"For the approximately 19 months of my membership, I was assigned to a 'unit' composed of those party members who were, like myself, members of the Group Theatre acting company . . ."

He stated that his unit was asked to do the following:

"1. To 'educate' ourselves in Marxist and party doctrine.

"2. To help the party get a foothold in the Actors Equity Association.

"3. To support various 'front' organizations of the party.

"4. To try to capture the Group Theatre and make it a Communist mouthpiece."

It is most important that these men and women who speak out should continue to work. I am told by a fighting anti-Communist group in Hollywood that about 100 movie people are ready to testify or to write letters but that they are frightened by the bad treatment meted out to those who have already spoken. Those who show sincerity should be met more than half-way.

Gettysburg in Gobbledygook

Eight and seven-tenths decades ago the pioneer workers in this continental area implemented a group or of any group operating of free boundaries and initial conditions of equality. We are now actively engaged in an over-all evaluation of conflicting factors in order to determine whether or not the life expectancy of this group of or any group operating under the stated conditions is significant.

We are met in an area of maximum activity among the conflicting factors. The purpose of the meeting is to assign permanent position to the units which have been annihilated in the process of attaining a steady state. This procedure represents standard practice at the administrative level.

From a more comprehensive viewpoint we cannot assign—we cannot integrate—we cannot implement this area.

The courageous units, in being annihilated, who were active in this area have integrated it to the point where the application of simple arithmetical operations to include our efforts would produce only negligible effects.

The reaction of the general public to this colloquium will be nonessential and transitory but the reaction to the impingement of the combat group is invariant. It is for this group in being rather to be integrated with the incomplete activities for which the combat groups who were active in this area have so comprehensively effected the initial implementation.

It is preferable for this group to be integrated with the incompleted implementation—that from the standards set by these respected deceased units we take accelerated intensive effort—that we here resolve at a high ethical level that the deceased shall not have been annihilated without furthering the project—that this group under divine leadership shall implement a new source of unhampered activity—and that political supervision composed of the integrated units, for the integrated units, by the integrated units, shall not perish from the superficial area of this planet.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

One of the early merchants of Marion was W. W. Concklin, who with his brother, Charles W. Concklin, was in business here before 1850. Born in New York City Dec. 14, 1799, he came to Marion shortly after 1820 and entered from 2,500 to 3,000 acres of land, mostly in Salt Rock Township. At that time the land was wild, there were not more than 15 or 20 families in the community and not more than 300 inhabitants in the county. He also had large banking interests, was a stockholder in the Bank of Marion, serving as cashier and president a good portion of this period. He also was one of the founders of the bank.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Fun Is Fun

Up in the morning, tra la la,
Steel's to be made with a hot cha-cha;
On, Democrats, to the big steel plants
Merrily caroling "Shall we dance?"

Sawyer and Steelman and all the boys
Ooze nonchalance and the greatest poise;
Wands they are waving and . . . Eight . . .
nine . . . ten! . . .
Presto! They've turned into big steel men!

WE WERE CRAZY ENOUGH to go trout fishing opening day and we still think the traffic lights in midstream are inadequate. . . . Believe it or not we heard one angler cry to another "You're STANDING ON MY TROUT!" . . . President Truman pitched his last "first ball" to open a Washington ball game this week, no statement "I do not choose to chuck" being necessary. . . . He had pitched seven seasons, and one more would have made him a pro. . . . He was only a fair to middlin' twirler, never quite showing enough stuff to bring the cry of 'Break up Harry Truman'" . . . This opens to speculation the question of the first ball tosser in 1953. . . . Will it be Eisenhower, Taft, Warren, MacArthur, Kefauver, Russell or Stevenson? . . . Ike was a college ballplayer. . . . He had speed and control. . . . Taft is showing a baffling curve. . . . Kefauver has a "glider," but nobody can pitch successfully with a lantern in one hand.

There were times in that Washington opener when we were afraid the President would seize the Red Sox. . . . Terry Moore, movie actress, divorcing Glenn Davis after a three-month marriage, says they knew few pleasant moments together. . . . No team work, probably. . . . Mayor Impellitteri of New York, judging from those bathing beach photos, is more careless with "figures" than had been thought.

THE JAPANESE PEACE TREATY has been signed. . . . We get permanent custody of the horrible Pearl Harbor memory, the right to visit the honor roll on the village green twice a week and free earlaps to prevent us from hearing what our servicemen are saying about it. . . . The Japanese claimed a tilt. . . . That incident where a noted pro golfer lost a tournament through a penalty for lifting from a water hazard and moving his ball closer to the hole, coupled with the statements that "it was a new rule," continues to make us reach for the aspirin. . . . As Joe Day, head of the U.S. Golf Association, says, this is one of the oldest rules in golf. . . . Can it be that the pros, setting new low scores and taking down big money, don't bother to read 'em?

Spring is here without a stop;
I know . . . my new lawn's such a FLOP!

It now begins to look as if Ike liked Ike for the Presidency.

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Tuesday, April 21, 1942.

New air-raid alarms were reported to have sounded in central and western Japan even as the Japanese cabinet received details on the damage inflicted by American bombers in Saturday's spectacular assault on Tokyo, Yokohama, Nagoya and Kobe.

Marion County's share of a $2,000,000 state allotment for local civilian defense work was listed to be $10,601.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Detwiler of 918 Congress St. returned from Fort Dix, N. J., where they spent the week end with their son, Pvt. Richard E. Detwiler.

Negotiations which would give Marion its first league baseball team in more than five years were completed with announcement of the entrance of Roosevelt Lodge 1281 baseball team into a semi-pro circuit which replaced the defunct Ohio State Class D loop.

Founder's Day was observed by members of Gamma Mu Chapter, Delta Theta Tau Sorority, with a dinner at Hotel Harding. Miss Pauline Ruhl gave a history of the chapter founded 14 years ago.

Miss Pansy Rauhser was elected president for the new year of the Marion Association of University Women at a dinner meeting at Hotel Harding.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — It was Thursday, April 21, 1932.

Mrs. Jane Melvin, 78, died at the home of her son, Charles Melvin of Pearl St.

The dwelling house on the farm of Isaac Aronhalt a few miles west of Green Camp was destroyed by fire.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Augenstine of E. Center Ct.

The Bay View Club held its final program meeting of the club year with Miss Hortense Fies of S. State St.

The Happy Seven Bridge Club was entertained by Miss Kathryn Cusic of Rose Ave.

Joe Potts of Ridgeway, formerly of Marysville, was found guilty in Union County Common Pleas Court on an indictment charging him with entering a bank with firearms with the purpose of committing a felony. The charge was in connection with the holdup of a bank at Richwood.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

BBC is setting up its TV cameras to try to catch a picture of the Loch Ness monster . . . obviously this is a delayed answer to New York's televised Easter parade.

Present plan is for BBC to submerge cameras . . . possibly to a depth where it would be impossible for anyone but an Esther Williams to swim into focus to plug hats, shoes, gowns, make-up, lotions, jewelry, cameras, tires, automobiles and a full line of fresh fruits and vegetables.

We've never tried anything like shooting a picture of the Loch Ness monster and it would be dangerous in this campaign year . . . who knows how many write-in votes he might get?

The difference between BBC and our own television is that they have no sponsors . . . When you see a monster on their program you know it's sustaining.

I don't say that it makes for better programs but it does make it possible to produce monstrous programs at lower cost.

* * *

And we have seen programs on our channels that would have looked better in the English Channel.

Coffee Dessert Is Delicate as Spring Flower

Spring's the time for flowers no doubt about it. In keeping with this lightsome thought, here is a delicate new dessert that is not only pretty as a flower, but even looks like one,

This dessert posy, coffee charlotte, is a combinaton of lady fingers and smooth, creamy coffee-flavored custard. It's the kind of dessert that's just right for a company dinner or a family party.

COFFEE CHARLOTTE

2 egg yolks
2 T sugar
¼ t salt
¼ cup ground coffee
1½ cups milk
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 egg whites
1 cup heavy cream
3 T sugar
1 t vanilla
Lady fingers
Maraschino cherries

Beat egg yolks. Add 2 tablespoons sugar gradually, beating constantly, add salt. Add coffee to milk, bring slowly to scalding point and strain through cheesecloth. Add to egg yolk mixture and cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture coats spoon.

Sprinkle gelatin on cold water and dissolve in hot custard. Cool slightly. Beat egg whites stiff and fold in. Cool. Whip cream, add remaining sugar and vanilla and fold in. Line sherbet glasses with lady fingers. Fill with custard mixture. Chill until firm.

Garnish with additional whipped cream and maraschino cherries. Makes 6 servings.

SPRING FLOWERS CARRIED OUT a colorful decorative theme for the luncheon given by members of the Round Table Club, Wednesday at Hotel Harding. The occasion was the club's annual guest day. The president, Mrs. Gerald Baker, welcomed the guests and presented Mrs. Walter E. Hane, president of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs, a guest of honor.

Entertainment was by a musical comedy trio who presented excerpts from "South Pacific." Mrs. Inez O'Brein was vocalist, Mrs. James Child, narrator and Allen Dudley, accompanist. All were from Findlay.

MRS. ERNEST E. LOWRY

Miss Everett And Pfc. Ernest Lowry Of Cleveland Wed

MISS ELAINE EVERETT, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Ray G. Everett of 258 Pearl St., became the bride of Pfc. Ernest E. Lowry in a candlelight ceremony Thursday, April 3, in First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. Pfc Lowry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Cleveland.

The altar was decorated with palms, baskets of white gladioli, and candelabra. Family pews were marked with white satin bows and huckleberry foliage. Music before the ceremony was provided by Mrs. Harry T. Williams, organist, and Miss Mary Lou Swigart, vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown with a fitted bodice of chantilly lace and a three-tiered full length skirt over a satin hoop skirt. Pearl sequins trimmed the edge of the sheer illusion yoke, and her fingertip silk illusion veil was fastened to a Mary Queen of Scots lace cap.

In addition to a white Bible topped with an orchid and white streamers, she carried a white handkerchief which her great aunt, Mrs. Susan Patterson, had carried at her wedding 55 years ago

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Betty Jane Howison of Colorado Springs, Colo., as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Erma Morse of Columbus and Mrs. Louise McLain of Marion. Candlelighters were Miss Bonnie Stoner and Mrs. Marilyn Howell, and Rita Sue Walters, the bride's cousin, was flower girl.

All the attendants wore gowns of pink orchid taffeta with fitted bodices and full skirts over crinoline underskirts. The matron of honor and bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of yellow Dutch iris with orchid streamers. The candlelighters wore wrist corsages of the same flowers and the flower girl carried a basket of spring flowers.

Pfc. Richard McLain acted as best man. Ushers were James Howell, Vincent Corwin and Pfc. Richard Snare of Marion, and Charles Howison of Colorado Springs, Colo.

A reception for 75 guests was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

A three-tiered wedding cake decorated in orchid and yellow was the centerpiece on the table, which was decorated with spring flowers and candles.

For a short wedding trip to Cleveland, the bride wore a navy blue suit with checked bolero jacket and navy blue accessories. She wore her bridal orchid

The bride was graduated from Harding High School in 1949 and from comptometry school in Columbus. She is employed in the payroll department of the Marion Power Shovel Co. and is vice president of Unit 2 of Nu Phi Mu Sorority.

Pfc. Lowry, a 1947 graduate of Harding High School, was employed at General Excavator Co. before entering the service. He is now stationed at the Marine Air Base near Santa Ana, Calif. The couple plan to make their home in Santa Ana in the near future.

Weddings

Mrs. Effie McCrery of 192 Sharp St. is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Mrs. Maxine Arthur, to William H. Byers of Pomona, Calif. He is the son of Mrs Mary Byers of 151 Franconia Ave. The single ring ceremony was read April 4 in the Methodist Church in Yuma, Ariz., by the Rev. Clarence Hollandon.

The couple are making their home in Pomona. They were attended by Maxine Eisele and Orville Wilson of Pomona.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Byers was employed at the Arro Expansion Bolt Co. in Marion. Mr. Byers is employed at the Pomona Manufacturing Co.

Death Claims E. F. Patton

Was Founder Of Coal and Supply Firm

Elias F. Patton, 92, many years a Marion business man, died at 1 a.m. Sunday in his home at 184 Leader St. He was in failing health two years.

Born Oct. 8, 1859, in Marion County, he was a son of Abraham and Catherine Self Patton, the father a native of Hocking County and the mother of Marion County. Feb. 22, 1885, in Paulding County, he married Margaret F. Carter who died Aug. 29, 1947, in Marion. They had celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary that year. In Marion, Mr. Patton was a member of Wesley Methodist Church and of the Odd Fellows Lodge, and he was a charter member of the IOOF at Paulding.

In 1883, he left Marion for Paulding County where he was in the grocery and feed business for a time, and engaged in farming 30 years. Returning to Marion in 1913, he became owner and operator of a gravel pit west of town which came later under the ownership of the Marion Sand and Gravel Co. In 1921, he founded the E. F. Patton and Sons Co. which deals in building supplies and coal at 182 Erie St. He retired in 1940.

Surviving are children, Mrs. Irene Davis of Akron, Mrs. Hazel Smith of Oakwood, O., Leo F. Patton of 193 Erie St., Elias F. Patton Jr. of 945 S. Prospect St., Carter M. Patton of 322 Edgewood Dr., Don E. Patton of 321 Girard Ave., and Mrs. Eilene Berry of Philadelphia, Pa., 20 grandchildren, and 23 great grandchildren. He was last of a family of 14. A great great granchild preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. in Wesley Church. The pastor, the Rev. William Reeves, a former Marion pastor, the Rev. E. J. A. St. Louis of Dayton, and Earl N. Hale, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Chapel Heights Memory Gardens. Friends may call at the M. H. Gunder and Sons Funeral Home on W. Center St. after 7:30 tonight until 11 a.m. Wednesday, then at the church.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Eugene N. Craig

Word has been received here of the death April 8 of Eugene N. Craig, 77, at Minneapolis, Minn. He was a former Marion resident. Funeral services were held April 11 at Minneapolis, with burial in Lakewood Cemetery there.

Born Aug. 5, 1874, in Hocking County, Mr. Craig was a son of William M. and Cynthia Craig. He left Marion a number of years ago to become associated with Armour & Co. at Chicago, Ill. Later, he was a sales manager for the Twin City Milk Producers Association at Minneapolis, retiring in 1947 after 25 years with that firm. In 1943, he received the C. E. Gray award made by the company for service to the dry milk industry. At one time he was president of the Minneapolis PTA Council and was a member of the Community Chest Board. He was a member of the Masonic Ark Lodge, RAM Ark Chapter, and Minneapolis Mounted Commandery, Knights Templar. He was an active member of the Hennipen Avenue Methodist Church.

Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Buena Bogardus of Mason City, Ia., and daughters, Mrs. Margaret C. Lewis of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Robert Clinite of Albia, Ia., a sister, Mrs. Frank Phillips of Marion, and nephews, Robert C. Phillips and John M. Pasters, both of Marion.

William D. Duerr

William D. Duerr, 79, a native of Germany, died at 5 p.m. Saturday in the Marion County Home. He had lived in Marion 71 years.

Born July 5, 1872, at Wurtemberg, Germany, he was a son of Gottlieb and Louis Rapp Duerr. Jan. 8, 1924, in Marion, he married Ida Viola Butz who died June 2, 1948. He was a member of Emanuel Lutheran Church.

Surviving are a foster daughter, Miss Verna Mae Gatton of New York City, and brothers, August Duerr of north of Marion and Gottlieb Duerr of Morrow County, and nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Schaffner-Denzer Funeral Home on E. Center St. The Rev. M. E. Hollensen will officiate. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight.

George Grundtisch

UPPER SANDUSKY—Relatives here have received word of the death of a former local resident, George Grunditsch, 79, retired Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman, in a Ft. Wayne hospital. He had resided in Ft. Wayne for several years and had been a railroad employe for 30 years.

Surviving are a brother, William Grunditsch of Upper Sandusky, and two sisters, Mrs. Ray Schuler of Upper Sandusky and Mrs. Margaret Hare of Columbus. Funeral services and burial will be Tuesday in Ft Wayne.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

FOREIGN POLITICIANS, looking to their own vote-getting machines, have baldly told the Pentagon and State Department to remove American crews and technicians from military construction jobs across the world and replace them with slower, untrained native labor—all to be paid by American contractors now preparing to build the bases and airports blueprinted by General Eisenhower as he prepares to leave NATO.

Our government has secretly yielded to these demands.

By June 1, thousands of Americans who thought they were guaranteed several years' work when they left their families for European and Asiatic outposts, will be returning to the U.S. where construction jobs already are scarcer than the Washington Senators' world series chances. Beginning early this week, American construction workers were laid off at the notorious North African airbases and replaced by 1,000 French workers.

None could be more inefficient. At Nauassour (Casablanca), North Africa, 11 native "experts", hired to supervise vital welding operations at that defense post designed to hold part of a continent, were given simple welding tests. All 11 failed. Similar ghastly ineptitude has been reported at the Sidi Slimane, Africa, bases.

THERE CAN BE NO doubt that this secret agreement between the U.S. and these NATO countries jeopardizes the entire defense network which NATO hopes to throw up as a gun-bristling levee against the flood of Soviet armies. This guarded policy, according to American construction experts familiar with the details of the foreign military time table, will delay and possibly cripple the "world's largest military depot", General Eisenhower's projected Chateauroux (France) base. There are more than 100,000 different items already on hand there with only tarpaulin covers because of an immediate shortage of military warehouses, machine shops and quartermaster headquarters.

Strategic, new installations in Leghorn, Italy, northern Africa and Trieste (gateway to tense Austria); airfields in the Panama Canal Zone, and secret projects ranging from pole to pole will be snafued by the uprooting of skilled American workers.

ASKED TO EXPLAIN this policy, Air Secretary Finletter wrote to the Construction Men's Association recently:

"We feel that in the interests of good relations with these countries, local labor should be utilized where practical, by American contractors. The use of such labor also helps the local economic situation... Many foreign countries in which we are, or will be, building insist that native contractors be used exclusively or at least as far as they are capable of performing the work.

"Therefore, in spite of our desire for speed and American efficiency in our foreign base construction program, compromises are sometimes necessary in order to get vital air units located."

I know Mr. Finletter to be a reasonable man. He obviously has a serious problem. But the State Dept. and Pentagon brass should make it clear, say the American construction people (speaking for 10,300 construction specialists, each of whom has 5 years experience in construction work and has taken an anti-Communist oath), that this is no banana company seeking concessions for a road through the jungle to the coast of some tropical land. This is emergency defense work. There should be no local political demands. There should be no guiding factor but skill, from which comes speed.

THE CONSTRUCTION men point out that their experience has proven that it takes about 15 untrained workers under constant supervision and "driving—" to accomplish what just one experienced American construction man can do on his own initiative. The construction men fervently hope they'll not be accused of chauvinism. It's just a matter of time charts with them.

They point out that the record reveals that foreign-built installations are so inferior to American standards and so far specification in scores of instances that bases have had to be ripped out and rebuilt.

So, also, do the records show that whole buildings have had to be disembowled because of jumbled wiring—Runways have been ripped up because of fouled cables. Sewage pipes were wrongly laid and roads have had to be hacked up to get at them.

These are the military woes. There is the human equation. American workers are now being pressured to quit. If they yield to this persecution to make way for native labor, many from the U. S. must pay some $500—a good part of their savings—to get home.

At this rate we'll never get to first base in this truly big league fight.

RICHEST RODENT: In this from rat to riches story, the mousey character pictured here wasn't worth his weight in cheese until fed a diet of radioactive "algae" in a Chicago chemical laboratory. It immediately became the world's most exclusive and expensive rodent. Worth $100,000, the rat was exhibited at the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology in New York.

Queenly Wisdom

By Inez Robb

NEW YORK

IT IS THIS REPORTER'S opinion that the United States is now playing host to one of the most remarkable women of all time, Queen Juliana of The Netherlands.

So Cleopatra had sex appeal, Queen Elizabeth I had red hair, Helen of Troy had wanderlust and Mary of Scotland was an early-day Rita Hayworth.

But it is Queen Juliana who has produced the most profound and brilliant observation of the Twentieth Century, Winston Churchill notwithstanding.

Her immortal words "There is absolutely no point in letting the world be run by nervous wrecks" should be cast in bronze and hung around the neck of every head of state throughout the world. That is, if the big boys can control their shakes long enough for the presentation ceremonies.

If the queen's remarkable one-sentence diagnosis of today's ills is lost on the current generation, it is because the globe is populated by Pfc. nervous wrecks whose condition is entirely traceable to the fact that the world, in our time, has been run by high-echlon nervous wrecks.

HER MAJESTY SPOKE these inspired words on the steps of city hall during New York's recent warm welcome to her. She may have had them in mind all the time, or she may have taken a sharp look at Mayor Vincent Impellitteri, standing by her side, and decided that there is no time like the present for a few homely truths.

Certainly hizzoner, who in his more relaxed moments tends to resemble a cat on a hot brick, took her admonition to heart. Five minutes later, he was on the phone, ordering transportation to Florida, where he is now relaxing his ganglia in the first vacation he has been able to snatch in four or five months.

If the queenly message could only be impressed as seriously on the big brass in other parts of the world, and if they would all kindly go fishing for a few years, it would give us Pfc nervous wrecks a chance to relax and unravel our own jitters.

Some admirer of Miss Tallulah Bankhead once said that "a weekend away from Tallulah is like a year in the country." The same goes, but double, in the cases of Iran's Premier Mossadegh, the Arabian Johnny Ray; the Messrs. Stalin, Vishinsky, Molotov, Gromyko and Mao; Prime Minister Malan of the Union of South America; Juan and Evita Peron, and others too numerous to mention.

TRUTH TO TELL, Harry S. Truman, the Veep, Sen. Joe McCarthy, Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gov. Tom Dewey, among others have inspired me to climb the walls and bite my nails down to the second knuckle.

Here at home, we could stand a rest from big shot nervous wrecks, too, (presidential candidates, please note.)

In fact, Queen Juliana might very well have gone on to say: "Voters of the world, arise! You have nothing to lose but your top kick nervous wrecks."

Everytime her majesty has opened her mouth so far in the United States she has made sense. This is not only par for the course but an astounding novelty in visiting dignitaries, who often spend their entire time in this country chewing their feet.

But the quote which ought to win immortality for this smart, placid, relaxed and shrewd sovereign is her declaration "There is absolutely no point in letting the world be run by nervous wrecks."

When the late Queen Marie visited New York more than 25 years ago, the wife of one of the city's officials gained instant fame by saying to her majesty, after a royal speech, "Queen, you said a mouthful!"

I now borrow this forthright tribute to hand it on to Juliana.

40 Million Park Visitors

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON

AN ESTIMATED 40 million people are expected to visit the national parks this year. National Park Service officials beg them to to treat these areas as they would their own front yards. Don't throw trash around, they ask, or carve initials on trees or rocks or leave smoldering camp fires, and don't get too chummy with the animals or throw your shirt into one of the hot springs.

"The national parks and monuments, the parkways and historical sites belong to the people and are supported by their taxes, they should take better care of them," one officials told me.

"The geysers in Yellowstone's Handkerchief Pool were injured because people threw so many things into them—coins, hardware, even shirts and other personal clothing." He added that about two years ago Yellowstone's Morning Glory Pool got out of kilter, and park service people forced an eruption by inserting 12 lines of garden hose from the pool's interior down to the Firehole River.

"They got a five-pound jar of tax token, $97.34 in coins, odd pocket-pieces wearing apparel, two watches, whistles, sunglasses and everything else under the sun," the official explained.

Scratching initials on geyser basins, trees, rocks, picnic tables and such is even a more common nuisance. The historic pinkish sanastones El Morro National Monument, a landmark of old Spanish conquerors near Gallup, N. M., has been a victim. People even scratched over the original messages the Spaniards carved on the rock.

Most of the large parks have shelter facilities for overnight or full vacation time stays. These include everything from tents renting for about $1.25 a day up through cabins, lodges and hotels with de luxe accommodations and costing around $16 a day, American plan.

Park Service people caution those who plan to spend some time in the areas to make reservations well in advance by writing to the park superintendents. There are not nearly enough accommodations to go around. Camping grounds, however, are free and if you want to sleep in your car that's OK.

Plane Crash Kills 2 Near Martins Ferry

MARTINS FERRY, O. (AP)—The pilot and one of two passengers were killed Sunday night when a small plane crashed and exploded on a hillside near the Yorkville airport near here.

The victims were identified as Raymond Mays, 31, of McMechen, W.Va., and Virginia Foster of Wheeling, W.Va.. The other passenger, Alfred Cosentino, 33, of Steubenville, suffered a broken leg, two broken ribs and shock. He was thrown clear of the wreckage.

Cincinnati Painters Do Quick Job on House

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sixty-five union painters swarmed over the five-room residence of Mrs Mamie Schwertferger Saturday and painted its 5,000-square-foot surface in 12 minutes, 2 seconds.

The splash-dab-it's done job, a preliminary to "clean up, paint and beautify week" here April 20-26, was believed a new record. The previous national record for painting a house of similar size was said to be 18 minutes.

LIKE THEIR NUMBERS

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Some people get right attached to their telephone numbers. The Joseph Lowenthals have had the same number for 39 years. Mrs. A. H. McFadden's telephone was installed in 1911 and she still has the same number, 41 years later.

Marion Woman Wins Prize On Give-Away Show

Marion seems to be a lucky city as far as radio give-away shows are concerned.

Mrs. Helen Burklew of 373 Olney Ave., wife of Richard Burklew, became the latest Marion resident to win a prize on a nation-wide radio show by answering a question on the "Stop the Music" show Sunday night.

She won an automatic washer by recognizing a selection from the opera "Pagliacci." However, she was not able to give the correct name of the program's mystery tune for thousands of dollars in prizes. Nevertheless, her daughter Pat said, "She's thrilled to pieces."

Several other Marionites have hit it lucky on radio shows in recent months.

-Speedway

when a wheel of the racer struck him.

"It happened so fast," said Philip Engle of Dayton, another spectator. "I saw him coming. I was standing in back of those who got it."

Reid had planned to drive the car in the 500-mile speed classic at Indianapolis May 30. He had been driving since the end of World War II, mostly in midget and "hot rod" competition.

His fellow drivers in California considered him a 'bright prospect" for bigger races.

Nine of the injured required hospitalization, while many others were treated at the track for minor injuries.

Thatcher was killed when he tried to usher Mrs. Shaffer out of the path of the car.

Spins Through Fence

The accident happened during the first trial heat. Reid's racer went out of control near the top of a bank for a turn. It spun through a retaining wall, shot through a standing-room crowd, ploughed into a paint barrel, and hit the grandstand.

Track officials said they did not think Reid's car had mechanical trouble, but they gave no immediate explanation for the crash. Reid was driving a red and white Engle-Stanko special and running third on the fifth lap of the 10-lap heat.

The races resumed 90 minutes later. Joey James of Van Nuys, Calif., won.

Reid's wife, Betty, 26, became hysterical at her home in Burbank, Calif., when told of the accident. They are the parents of four children, the youngest two weeks old.

Special refrigeration equipment, providing a temperature range from 100 degrees below to 170 above zero, has been set up by an electrical manufacturing company to test electron tubes for radios in aircraft which will fly at altitudes exceeding 15 miles.

Hunger

reportedly were arguing and bickering well into the night as meager food supplies dwindled.

Water has been shut off to the wing since the riot flared up Thursday night. William Lagay, superintendent of the prison farm, said the rebels might be tapping a pipe prison officials don't know about.

F. Lovell Bixby, deputy commissioner of state institutions and agencies who sent the no corporal punishment promise to the convicts Sunday night, said reports of heated arguments came from guards stationed near the barricaded prison wing.

Chants of "we want food" echoed yesterday from the wrecked wing, where huge signs, crudely-lettered on bed sheets, hung from shattered windows. On one of the bedsheets was written the mute appeal—"water."

Five Injured In Collision Near Galion

Four in One Family, Driver of Other Car Treated at Hospital

Four members of a Galion family and another Galion resident were injured Sunday in an automobile collision on Route 61, about 2½ miles east of Galion, at 6:45 p.m.

Mrs. Evelyn Christman of Galion was traveling north and attempting to turn left when the right side of her car was struck by a southbuond car driven by Austin Jarvis, 20, of Galion, the Marion post of the state highway patrol reported. The Christman car was extensively damaged and the front end of the Jarvis car was demolished.

Jarvis was severely bruised on the knee and was cut on the forehead, and Mrs. Christman suffered severe body bruises. Also injured were Mrs. Christman's husband, Lewis, 31, concussion and scalp lacerations, and their sons, Daryl, 5, head lacerations, and Larry, 2, severe bruises of the right foot. Christman was admitted to Galion City Hospital and the others were released after treatment.

Jarvis was charged with reckless operation and was cited to appear Tuesday morning before Mayor Jay Nichols of Galion.

Three Other Accidents

Three other week-end accidents were reported by the state highway patrol.

A car driven by Robert Lingo, 19, of LaRue was demolished when Lingo apparently fell asleep at the wheel and drove off the road into a ditch on the right. He was traveling west on Route 30-S, five miles west of Marion, at 3:30 a.m. Sunday.

Lingo was treated at the Marion Clinic for injuries of the left shoulder, left knee, side of hand, and face.

A car driven by Garnel R. Weller, 22, of Hagerstown, Md., ran into the rear of a car driven by William H. Wright, 17, of near Fredericktown Sunday at 12:20 a.m. on Route 42, half a mile north of Johnsville. Both were driving south and Wright had stopped to make a left turn. Extensive damage to both cars was reported. Neither driver was injured.

Weller was charged with reckless operation and was fined $15 and costs when he pleaded guilty before R. R. Bennington, justice of the peace in Mt. Gilead.

Car, Truck Collide

A dumptruck driven by David Courtade, 58, of Upper Sandusky and a car driven by Walter L White, 65, of Chicago, Ill., collided on Route 30-N., 4½ miles east of Upper Sandusky, at 1:45 p.m. Saturday. Both were going east and White attempted to pass Courtade as the latter started to make a left turn.

The right front end of the dumptruck was slightly damaged and the right front fender and door of the car were damaged considerably. No one was injured.

White was arrested on a charge of passing at an intersection and was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty before L. C. Schoenberger, justice of the peace in Upper Sandusky.

Four Marion Pupils On Honor List

Four Marion students at Ohio State University and several from Marion County and surrounding counties are listed on the honor roll for the winter quarter. They achieved scholastic averages between "A" and "B".

The Marion students are Virginia M. Mason, Josephine Rayburn and Mary Lee Russell, all in the college of Education, and Robert Snow in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Norman C. Roettger of Green Camp is also listed on the honor roll of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Crawford County honor students are Barbara A. Armitage, Doris M. Bergen, Dorothy P. Neff and Glenn A. Spiegel, all of Bucyrus students in the College of Education; Jean A. Mortland, College of Education, and Josephine S. Burkey, Twilight School in the College of Education, both of Galion; and Barbara J. Gantzler of Tiro in the College of Education.

Students from Delaware County on the honor roll are Clyde W. Conger and Thane Griffin of Delaware, in the College of Arts and Sciences, and James L. Mahoney of Sunbury, College of Education.

Kenton students from Hardin County listed are Ivar Oxaal, Margorie A. Pfeiffer, Dolores J. Smith and Robert E. Sprague, all of the College of Education. Robert S. Gemmell, Richard E. Hartle and Ausma H. Strazds, all of Kenton, are among those on the honor roll of the College of Arts and Sciences.

From Union County, Robert E. Rosette of Marysville, enrolled in the Twilight School in the College of Arts and Sciences, achieved honor roll status of "A" during the winter quarter.

Senior Class Annual Play Set This Week

"Room for One More" To Be Presented At Palace Wednesday

"Room for One More," a comedy drama dealing with the problems of the Rose family, will be presented by the Senior Class of Harding High School, Wednesday afternoon and evening. It's the annual Senior Class play.

Curtain time for the three-act play, to be given on the stage of the Palace Theater, is at 2:30 p. m. and 8:15 p. m.

The story revolves around Mother and Poppy Rose, who love children and admit "aising them is the thing they want to do most despite all financial difficulties.

When Poppy dies, however, all the weight of raising five children, three of whom are adopted falls upon Mother. All the children then pitch in to keep the meager family income ahead of the bills.

But when Joey, the oldest son goes away to study medicine, the family is forced to either sell the Pumpkin Shell, a summer cottage where the Rose family enjoy most of their good times, or discontinue leg operations on Jimmy John, an adopted crippled child.

All ends happily when Jimmy John literally "not only pulls his own weight but the weight of the whole family" in a surprise ending.

The cast of "Room For One More" includes Coleen Wooten, Harold Alexander, Sally Ann Knickle, Marjorie Dearth, Rosella Gettys, Barbara Clements, Marilyn Sifritt, Ronald Owens, Sally Runyan, John Gantt, Dorothy Yocom, Pamela Smyth, Eddie Porter and Gary McAfee.

William Calvert, speech and geography teacher at Harding, is directing the play.

Tickets may be purchased from members of the senior class, from James Smith at Harding, or at the theater boxoffice. Admission for adults is 65 cents.

the final decision on this and also on the union demand for compulsory union membership, one of the most explosive issues.

CIO President Philip Murray's steelworkers are holding out for the full wage boost suggested by the Wage Stabilization Board—including an immediate 12½ cents for 650,000 union members, two 2½ cent boosts in July and January, and other benefits. Average earnings now are about $2 an hour.

The steel companies say they can not afford these increases without boosting steel prices around $12 a ton—a boost the administration contends is too much.

NEW POINT 4 HEAD

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman today nominated Stanley Andrews, Arkansas Editor, to head the Point Four program as technical cooperation administrator. Andrews was named to succeed Dr Harry Bennett, who was killed in an airplane accident in the Middle East last year.

ESCAPE FROM STOCKADE

SAMPSON AIR FORCE BASE, N. Y. (AP)—An Air Force officer reported that 10 prisoners had escaped the base stockade Sunday night and that one of the youths had been captured and returned. Capt. Robert McDougall, public information officer of the base, said the men sawed their way through iron bars and vaulted a barbed wire fence in their try for freedom.

OFFER CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION. Mr. and Mrs. George Ressler (lower right) of Wiconisco, Pa., have offered to place several of their 12 children with other families so that they will be fed and clothed properly. Mr. Ressler, a railroad laborer says he hasn't the means to feed and clothe the entire family. Children are (from top): Donald, 12; Lionel, 11; Douglas, 10; Barbara, 9; Clifford, 8, George, 7; Neil, 6, Claudia, 5, Gerald, 4; Jeffrey, 3; Galen, 2, and Kathy Joan, born March 27.

Riot

Jackson Citizen-Patriot was called. He and Bacon conferred across a 30-foot pathway with Ward and Jarbo. Smith had to convince them he was a newsman through by-lines in Sunday's paper and to assure them he could get their story to AP and radio stations.

"There was so much yelling and banging we could hardly hear each other until Ward ordered the convicts to quiet down," Smith said, even though they came outside the cell block to talk to us. guards were all right, but said guards were al lright, but said the barber shop had been wrecked plus a lot of other stuff on the inside."

Captive Guards

The captive guards are Harold J. Carrier, William Holmes, T. A. Elliott and James Akins. A fifth guard escaped by darting through an open door when the convicts called Holmes in from the prison yard. He is Frank W. Hinton.

All off-duty prison guards were called out and 100 state troopers flocked to the scene. Machine guns were turned on the door of the building housing the cell block, which is separated from others inside the walls. Road blocks were thrown up to thwart escapes during the disturbance.

As Smith's story spread newsman flocked here from Detroit, Lansing and other cities. So did photographers. Warden Frisbie let them into the yard, but told them to keep away from the building's front door, "because if it opens somebody's liable to get full of holes."

Hyatt's rioters told their story, parade fashion, shouting to newsmen outside the cell block. They posed at barred windows for photographers. Finally they brought up a guard. Newsmen saw a knife at his throat.

Reporter Smith said the men complained especially of what they claimed was brutal treatment in cell block No. 6, where mental-case prisoners are held, and in cell block No. 15, the segregated disciplinary unit where they are held.

Ward, accompanied by Smith, claimed that male inmate-nurses in the mental cell block beat prisoner-patients with hoses and held kangaroo courts to mete punishment.

"He claimed," Smith said, "that the inmates ran the guards there, instead of vice versa. And he accused guards in No. 15 of using blackjacks, hoses and chains to discipline prisoners."

Fifth Phone Strike Settled

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike by 6,000 Western Electric Company employes was the only unsettled major telephone wage dispute today. But it carried a threat to phone service in 26 cities in 14 states.

The Western Electric tieup entered its 15th day, with five other telephone walkouts settled by compromise agreements. The six strikes, all by the CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA), started simultaneously but involved separate contracts.

An agreement was reached Sunday in San Francisco ending the CWA walkout against the northern California-Nevada affiliate of the Bell Telephone System. The agreement provides a 15-cent hourly wage boost for 6,500 striking workers.

NO SABOTAGE FOUND

WASHINGTON (AP)— Dr. B. T. Simms, chief of the Agriculture Department's bureau of animal industry, said today the government had found no evidence that sabotage was involved in recent outbreaks of anthrax among livestock. Some of the outbreaks among hogs in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois have been traced to commercial feed given the animals. The feed contained bone meal which had been imported from Belgium.

COLORFUL, ANYHOW

ALLIANCE, Neb. (UP) — An Alliance man returned home from a hard day at the office and found that his bedroom had been painted in a weird blend of pink, peach and white. "What color is it?" he asked his wife. "Hush pink," she replied and explained there hadn't been enough of any one shade to go around.

Named Junior Deputy Governor

Robert Scott Elected To District Lions Post

Robert Scott, secretary of the Marion Lions Club, was unanimously elected junior deputy district governor of District 13-E of the Ohio Association of Lions Clubs, which held its annual convention in Marion Saturday and Sunday. Members of the Marion Club were hosts to delegates representing the other 35 clubs in the district.

Scott, a member of the local club for eight years and secretary since 1945, will take office July 1. He is editor of the club bulletin and served as zone chairman for the district last year. He is director of personnel and safety at Commercial Steel Casting Co.

The election was held at a business session Sunday afternoon in Hotel Harding, convention headquarters. Leonard Melching of New Washington was endorsed by the delegates as new governor for District 13-E, to succeed the present district governor, Elmer Tankersley of Sandusky, who conducted the meeting. Melching will be elected at the state convention, to be held in Cincinnati May 16, 17, and 18.

Arrangements were made to hold next year's district convention in Lorain and the 1953 district bowling tournament in Elyria. The Crestline Lions Club won first prize in the District Governor's Contest, based on attendance percentage and general efficiency.

ROBERT SCOTT

The business session followed a necrology service conducted by Cecil Gabler in memory of nine Lions of the district who died during the past year. Music before and during the ceremony was provided by the Harding High School a cappella choir, under the direction of L. G. Jones.

The convention opened Saturday night with a reception and dance at the Marion Country Club. During the dance Miss Carolyn Wiles, a student at Ohio State University, was selected to represent the district in the state Lions Clubs queen contest which will be a feature of the state convention in May. She is the daughter of Cecil I. Wiles, a member of the Centerburg Lions Club.

A banquet Sunday evening in Moira Hall of St. Mary Catholic Church closed the two-day convention. Approximately 300 delegates and wives were served by members of Daughters of Isabella. Claris Adams, president of the Ohio Life Insurance Co. of Columbus, was speaker.

PUCO Has Advice For Phone Firms

COLUMBUS (AP)—Chairman Robert L. Moulton of the State Utilities Commission today advised Ohio's smaller telephone companies not to dodge complaints of subscribers.

Moulton's advice came in a speech prepared for delivery before the annual convention of the Ohio Independent Telephone Association in Columbus.

He said a more friendly and considerate policy would pay off in dollars to the companies, subscribers and taxpayers. He said:

"Most people don't make complaints unreasonably. Most of your subscribers are good people who are busy and wouldn't bother with all the trouble of coming to the Public Utilities Commission unless they had good reasons.

"So when a person comes to you with a complaint, admit it. Try to do something about it instead of dodging the issue as is so often done. Try to fix the man's trouble instead of claiming that it doesn't exist," Moulton said.

Moulton also advised executives of some 190 telephone companies to keep their employes more fully informed about company expansion and repair plans so the information can be passed on to the public.

K-F Is First With Major Cut in Prices

DETROIT (AP)—The first substantial price reduction to be announced by any auto company in many months became effective today with a $100 to $168 cut in Kaiser-Frazer's Henry J line.

However, the reduction does not indicate a trend in auto prices generally, according to automotive authorities. Increases, authorized by the Capehart Amendment to the National Defense Act, have been the rule and there isn't likely to be any definite price action by other manufacturers until uncertainty about steel prices has been removed.

Automotive circles interpret the K-F action in reducing Henry J model prices as an effort to readjust the competitive position between this newest model in the Kaiser-Frazer line and the average price of other somewhat larger cars in the lower-priced field.

Rumor has had it that some K-F dealers have been protesting that their sales problems had been intensified by the fact the differential between the Henry J models and average Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth models was relatively small.

Objects To Punishment; Penna. Boy Runs Away

GALION—Galion police interfered with the journey of a 14-year-old Pennsylvania boy. He was taken into custody here Thursday when he arrived from an eastern Pennsylvania town. Juvenile Officer E. T. Talbott took the boy to Bucyrus where his parents arrived, Friday to take him home.

The boy had a note from his classroom teacher which had directed him to the principal's office in his school. Rather than face unpleasant consequences, the boy started his journey west. He told officers he had hitch-hiked rides with truck drivers because "other motorists asked him too many questions."

Four Injured In Auto Crash On Route 4

Driver in Hospital As Car Hits Mailbox, Utility Pole and Tree

Four Marionites were injured in an automobile accident early today half a mile south of Marion on Route 4, the state highway patrol reported.

Eldwin W. Paxton, 18, of 145 W. Walnut St., was driving north at 2:45 a.m. when he lost control of his car and went off the road on the left side, knocking down a mailbox and a utility pole and striking a tree. The car was demolished. Single lane traffic was conducted for three hours while power lines were repaired.

Paxton was admitted to Marion City Hospital with lacerations of the head and nose and a possible concussion. His condition today is reported as "fair."

Three passengers in his car were injured also. Mrs. Ann Flach of 197½ S. Prospect St. is reported in "fairly good" condition today at the hospital, where she was admitted with a broken right ankle. Her husband, Richard Flach, 28, suffered abrasions of the left hand and forehead, and David Flach, 18, of 613½ Cleveland Ave. suffered abrasions of the left hip and leg. They were released after treatment at the hospital.

The injured were taken to the hospital in the Boyd ambulance.

Three Drivers Arrested By Marion Policemen

Three traffic arrests were reported today by city police.

Pedro Gus Regales, 20, of 226 Wallace St. was arrested on a charge of reckless driving on N. Main St. at 2:26 p. m. Sunday. He posted $35 bond for his appearance in Municipal Court today.

Also arrested on a charge of reckless driving was Richard L. Stanley, 21, of 714 Davids St. The arrest was made on N. Main St. at 2:39 p. m. Sunday. His car was held for his appearance in Municipal Court today.

Harris C. Salyer, 40, of 713 Hoyle St. was arrested on a charge of driving without an Ohio driver's license on Jefferson St. at 12:12 p. m. Sunday. His car was held for his appearance in Municipal Court today.

FINED ON DOG CHARGE

S. R. Lane, 32, of near Marion was fined $10 and costs in Municipal Court Saturday for harboring an unlicensed dog, city police reported today.

SHE'S THE SAFEST LADY ON THE ROAD

With Chrysler POWER STEERING plus Chrysler POWER BRAKES

At the wheel of a new Chrysler, you have quicker, surer control of motion than you've ever had in a car. You can't imagine what it's like till you drive it! With this full-time power steering, hydraulic power does 4/5 the steering work at your gentle pull on the wheel! You also turn the wheel 1/3 less distance. And on rough roads, soft shoulders, snow or sand, "wheel fight" just doesn't happen. Your hand actually has five times the usual steering control, through every minute of every mile... with the same sure "wheel feel" at all times!

With this safer way to steer, power brakes make stops at all speeds safer and easier, too. Power from the engine "boosts" every touch of your toe. Actually you stop with up to 2/3 less foot pressure than non-power brakes. You can bring your Chrysler to a halt from full speeds in many feet less distance than other cars of comparable size can stop. See your Chrysler dealer soon. Feel for yourself why thousands of owners say Chrysler offers the two greatest advances in many years in driving safety and driving ease!

Spell-Down Held At Crawford Schools

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Two North Robinson school pupils today held the spelling championships of Crawford county's rural schools as a result of an old-fashioned spelling bee held Wednesday night at Holmes-Liberty school.

The champion high school speller is Adena Chandler, a senior, and the champion of the second through eighth grade bracket, is Sandra Mollencopf, an eighth grader.

Ninety-seven students participated in the contest, which included both written and oral tests. Miss Chandler won the high school championship when Herbert Brown of Sulphur Springs misspelled "brochure." Alice Heft of Holmes-Liberty was unable to spell "vengeance" to give the grade school title to Miss Mollencopf.

School Patrol Gets New Raincoats

School patrol members of the Oak Street School sport new raincoats above, presented to them last week by the safety committee of the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Other students in the picture are those who have already served on the patrol since February when the patrol was organized.

Second row, Michael Tennant, Jerry Garver, Carol Warley, Margaret Ann Romine, Gwen Erwin, Bonnie McIntire, John Nichols and Paul Bigham, principal of Oak and Mark Street Schools.

Third row, Michael Dodds, Raymond Pierce, Allen Johnson, Robert Cardwell, Larry Kelly, Sue Ellen Sweigard and Patricia Deem.

Fourth row, Glen Wrenn and William Flach, members of the safety committee of the Jaycees.

The raincoats and hats are bright yellow so that they can be easily seen by motorists.

The presentation of the coats is a continuation of the program started by the Jaycees several years ago when raincoats were presented to all school patrols.

Protected Home Circle Gives to Cancer Fund

Five candidates were initiated into the Protected Home Circle Friday night when the circle met at the IOOF Hall.

They are Mr. and Mrs. William Gannon, Mr. and Mrs. John Spicer and Mrs. Dessa Sharpe. Eight applications for membership were received and accepted.

The program included a flannelgraph of the Easter story by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blankenship and a story, "Legend of the Dogwood Tree," by Mrs. Helen Johnson.

It was voted to make a donation of $10 to the Cancer Fund.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Alma Anderson, Mrs. Lucille Predmore, C. I. Smithson and John Spicer. A 6 o'clock chicken supper, with Mrs. Dessie Carpenter in charge, preceded the meeting.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Abell of Dayton. Mr. Abell is state supervisor of the Protected Home Circle.

The next meeting will be held May 2.

AID SOCIETY MEETS

Mrs. Lou Fowler, Mrs. Ethel Orahood and Mrs. Clara Delauder were named to the nominating committee when Circle Three of the First EUB Church Ladies' Aid Society met Tuesday night at the church. Mrs. Georgia Almendinger was in charge of devotions. Plans were made for a rummage sale at the Palace Theater Building, April 23. Mrs. Priscilla Connell was in charge of the program and prizes. Guests were Mrs. Dwight Scranton, Mrs. W. J. Hawk, Mrs. Ora Ireland and Miss Sally Burkepile. Mrs. Hazel Hufford, Mrs. Florence Uline, Mrs. Dorothy Burkepile, Mrs. Wannie Converse and Mrs. Alice Kesserling were hostesses.

Harpster FFA Boys Attend Training School

Five members of the Harpster Lewis chapter of the Future Farmers of America attended an FFA district training school held recently at the Wharton School.

They were Darrel Lust, president; Merrell Lust, vice president; Dean Waggy, secretary; Tom Starner, treasurer, and Fred Sandridge, reporter.

About 125 boys in the district attended. A dinner was served by the Wharton Band Mothers.

MORRAL CLUB MEETS

The Morral Merry Maidens 4-H Club met recently at the Morral School. Donna Ruth Knickel and Dorinda Winters demonstrated baking cookies. The procedure in baking cakes was demonstrated by Judy Campbell, Henlin Glenn, Beverly Shertzer and Rose Harris. The program included vocal solos by Joan Parker and Mary Lou Koontz, poems by Margery Murphy and Barbara Myers, and the scripture by Judy Campbell. Carra Merrow and Catherine Taylor were in charge of refreshments.

WATCH SONS PERFORM

More than 75 parents watched their sons perform in a program put on by the YMCA Tadpole class at the Y Friday night, Vern Miller, Y physical director, reported today. The Tadpoles are Y boys from six to nine years old. The boys ran relays, did tumbling tricks, and competed in mat drills.

Prospect To Hold Spring Music Event

The annual spring music festival of Prospect School, with both instrumental and vocal departments participating, will be presented May 2 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Pupils in grades 7 through 12 will participate in the vocal part of the program entitled "The Showboat." This will be a portrayal of shows as they were given on showboats which plied the Mississippi River in the olden days.

Included in the instrumental portion of the program will be numbers by the junior band, the German band, and concert selections by the senior band. Completing the program will be a number by the senior band and the girls glee club combined.

ENTERTAINS AUXILIARY

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary 481, National Association of Letter Carriers, were entertained Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Ronald Klingel of 151 Homer St. Mrs. Maynard Snyder, president, presided for the meeting. For the program, Miss Ruth Kleinmaier, home economist for the Ohio Edison Co., gave a talk and showed a film on cooking. She was assisted by Miss Margaret Potter. A special prize during the social hour was won by Mrs. Edward Hachten. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Rodney Kilbury of 267 N. Prospect St

NEW JET BOMBER IN MAIDEN FLIGHT. The Air Force's new, full-jet version of the B-36 bomber, takes off on its maiden flight at Fort Worth, Texas. The huge aircraft remained aloft for one hour and 10 minutes. Before the Air Force cleared this picture for publication the landing gear of the craft was airbrushed off.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

Marion's reply was docile and prompt but her eyes were troubled.

"Of course I'll do whatever you say, Auntie Madge, but— won't Mummy think that's awfully queer, Carlotta telephoning me instead of her?"

"You're the one most concerned, aren't you?" I countered sharply. "At least you are in Carlotta's opinion. I shall manage your mother about that ahgle, never fear. I'll lay all the blame on Carlotta's shoulders, and say that the reason you telephoned me instead of her, was because she had asked you to give me a most important message, and you had no choice in the matter. And as soon as I've finished talking to you, I'll switch you to your mother, and you will tell whatever news Carlotta has given you adding that you had to telephone me first because of a message for me which Carlotta wished me to get without any delay."

Marion's face cleared, and there was something heady in her eyes as they met mine.

"You think of everything, Auntie Madge," she said. "And you have made me so happy. For the first time I dare to hope that things are going to come out all right for Ronald and me."

I rose from my chair, went over to hers and gathered her slight figure into my arms, hugging and kissing her warmly.

"You have every right to hope, darling," I told her. "And now, I really must go. Will you please ask Aunt Katharine to come in here?"

She gave me a last grateful kiss, and then sped out of the room. It was less than a minute afterward that Katharine entered hatted, gloved and cloaked.

"Ready for your journey, I see," I told her approvingly.

"Your father wants us to be attired for the street on the occasions when we leave here, even under the escort of Adams or Winters, doesn't he?" she countered.

"Yes, he does" I agreed. "There would be less occasion for question should we by any chance meet anyone going down — a chance, however, which is exceedingly slender."

"Positively wraith - like," she assented, smiling, "with either of those two men on the job."

"Will you take over the job of talking to Dicky over the unlisted telephone?" I asked. "Tell him we're ready, and then he can get Adams on the job of setting the stage. I'm asking you because I think it is better that Faith does not see me again. She already has bidden me goodbye."

"And is busy amusing Young Peter," Katharine said "You have made a wise decision, as usual. I'll get busy on the telephone."

She went swiftly out of the door, and was back in record time.

"We're to watch at the outside door for Adams' knock, so there will be no delay," she said. "I gather that your father is getting slightly impatient."

"Oh! oh!" I said, a bit dismayed. "I should not have taken so much time talking to Marion, but—"

"She needed you," Katharine said, as we stationed ourselves just inside the hall door. "The difference in her face when she went in to see you, and when she came out again, told its own story. And, will you stop doubling for Uncle Tom under the lash of Simon Legree" Really, your father isn't going to boil you in oil, even if he is impatient."

$40 a Month Good Pay in '90's

Teachers Listed in Clipping Found In Cornerstone of Central School

Recollections of teaching in Marion city schools in days when the city gave school teachers examinations, and $40 per month was considered good pay, were brought to light recently when the cornerstone at the old Central Junior High School building was opened.

In the box inside the cornerstone was a newspaper clipping telling of the teachers who had been awarded contracts for the 1893-94 school year.

Mrs. Henry Ruhl of Lafayette St., one of the teachers named in the clipping, recalls she earned $40 per month while she taught the elementary grades, then at the Garden City Pike School.

She recalls that examinations were given teachers then by city school examiners and that little formal education was required of teachers.

The examinations lasted all day and covered spelling, writing, reading, higher arithmetic, geography and other subjects.

Many of the teachers were young. Some of the girls who taught school were only 15 to 16 years of age. Boston G. Young was one of the examiners for Marion County.

The city school music teacher at that time was Miss Leora Ward. She was given a contract at $65 per month which was an increase over her previous salary, the newspaper account reported.

Powell Was School Head

The city school superintendent was Professor Arthur Powell. His salary was $300 per month and he taught classes as well as conducting school business.

Teachers at the city schools were as follows:

Central High School, Kittie Smith, principal; Anna Fite, first assistant principal, M. H. Curtiss, second assistant principal. Winona Hughes, now living on W. Church St., Hattie Peters, Grace Cunningham of 707 Mt. Vernon Ave., and Olive Bayles, all grammar school teachers. Primary school teachers were Lorena Patten, now Mrs. Lorena Cobb of 197 Cummins Ave., Emma Thompson, Lucy Kile, and Abbie Gast.

Greenwood St. School, which was then called the East Building, Lizzie Ruehrmund, grammar school teacher and principal; Louise Cunningham, Emma Woods, now Mrs. Charles Scott of Columbus, and Hattie Christian, grammar school teachers. Primary school teachers were May Ham, Patti Thompson, Stella Smiley and Clara Kowalke.

N. State St. School Mrs: Hannah Emery, principal and teacher, Alice Beam, now Mrs. James Collins, of Columbus, Laura Treese and May Copeland, grammar school teachers. Sadie Cromer, Clara Gracely, now Mrs. Albright of Columbus, Ada Bowen of the Waddell Ladies home in Marion, Lydia Marsh, and Ethel Cunningham were teachers of the primary grades.

South building, what is now the city school administration building, Lottie Ward, principal and teacher, Dell I. Gray, Allie Peters, Flora Kowalke, and Libbie Dairy, primary teachers.

Silver St. School, two teachers were assigned to the Silver St. school although it was just being completed in the fall of 1893. The teachers were Jennie Peters, and Dora Finnefrock

Princess Mason, now Mrs. Henry Ruhl of Lafayette St. was a teacher of three primary grades at a school on W. Fairground St. near Leader St. That school was abandoned in 1894.

Fronia Gracely, now Mrs. Harry Egley of East Orange, N. J., was the one teacher assigned to Davids St. school. It was then known as West Marion school and had only primary grades.

Hattie Merritt was the only teacher at the Forest Lawn school. It had only three primary grades.

Forest Lawn, Davids St. and the Garden City Pike school were only small frame structures.

Only four of the buildings had janitors. For the Central school, I. C. Jones was the janitor; Greenwood St. school, J. Schneider; N. State St. school, Thomas Irey, and S. Prospect St. school, James Smith.

American College Of Physicians Names Marionite

A Marion physician, Dr William B. Leffler, has been elected to membership, as an associate fellow, in the American College of Physicians, according to an Associated Press dispatch today.

The election took place Sunday as the American College of Physicians opened its 33rd annual meeting in Cleveland in the Public Hall. It concludes Friday.

A group of 27 Ohio doctors were elected to membership, as fellows or associate fellows.

Dr. Leffler resides at 523 Forest St. and his office is located at 341 Mt. Vernon Ave.

Membership in the college is restricted to specialists in internal medicine in North America Membership includes about 5,200 fellows and about 1,800 associate fellows. Candidates must be elected as associates before they are eligible as felows. At the election, the college's board of regents elected 168 felows and 218 associate fellows.

PTA MEETS TUESDAY

A regular meeting of the North State Street School PTA group will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the school. No program has been definitely set.

Woman Hurt In Accident

Mrs. Emma Grover Suffers Neck Injury

A Marion woman suffered minor injuries in one of seven traffic accidents over the weekend, city police reported today.

Mrs Emma Grover, 73, of 671 Silver St. suffered a neck injury when the car she was riding in, driven by Ralph Paul Hogan, 51, of 196 Park Blvd., was struck from behind at the traffic light at N. Main and Hazen St., police reported. Driver of the second car was Robert Tayler, 24, of Prospect. Mrs. Grover was driven to her home. The front of the Taylor car was damaged and the rear of the Hogan car. The accident occurred at 7:13 p. m. Saturday.

City police arrested Jack Allen Miley, 23, of 626 N. Greenwood St. on a charges of intoxication and leaving the scene of an accident after an accident at 6:56 p.m. Saturday. Police report his car struck a car owned by W. G. Smiley parked in front of Smiley's home at 648 N. State St.

Miley posted $135 bond for his appearance in Municipal Court April 26. Both cars were damaged.

A car owned by Robert Johnston of 504 Oak St. was struck by a hit-skip car as it was parked in front of 501 Oak St Sunday. The front and left side of the Johnston car was damaged.

A hit-skip driver also struck a car owned by Anthony Schiavo of 310 Marion Ave. parked in front of Schiavo's home. The accident occurred Saturday. The rear end, trunk, and bumper of the Schiavo car were damaged.

At 3.01 a.m. Sunday a car driven by Harold L. Crabtree, 22, of 812 N. State St. backed into a car owned by Glenn B. Charge as the Charge car was parked in front of his home at 382 N. Main St. The right rear of the Charge car was damaged and the left front of the Crabtree car.

Cars driven by John Bunch, 17, of near Marion and Ray L. Salyer, 49, of Detroit collided at the intersection of Main and Columbia St. at 9:47 p.m. Saturday. Damage was slight.

A wrecker truck driven by Gene Little, 30, of 835 York St. and a car driven by Lloyd Hanna, 52, of Canton, O., collided in front of 413 Olney Ave. at 1:03 p.m. Saturday. Fenders of both vehicles were damaged.

Commissioners Sell House for $12,250

A house owned by the Marion County commissioners at 490 Oak St. was sold at public auction Saturday at 10 a.m. to William K. Secrist of 490½ Oak St. for $12,250. Secrist lives in one of the apartments in the double house and plans to rent the other, which is already occupied.

The house was the last of the property owned by commissioners purchased for emergency housing for war veterans.

ESCAPE INJURY IN WRECK

UPPER SANDUSKY—Mr. and Mrs. Willis McCray of near Crafford, Ala., escaped serious injury early Friday when their auto missed the turn on U.S. Route 23, at the south edge of Upper Sandusky, and overturned near the North Electric plant. Mr. McCray suffered a laceration of the left leg, while his wife had a minor back injury. They were taken to Wyandot Memorial Hospital by Policeman Schwabel, where they were released after treatment.

The tuning fork was invented in 1711.

DOES DUCKS DIRT

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Detergents may be fine for removing grease from dirty dishes, but they're making life tough for ducks. A sportsmen's group reports that dishwater, which finds its way into bays and inlets, reduces the oily coating of ducks, making their feathers waterlogged and giving them trouble swimming.

Y Announces Summer Camp Season Plans

Plans for the summer camping season for Marion youths were announced today by Marvin J. Ludwig, boys' work secretary at the Marion YMCA.

Boys from the local Y will be sent to Camp Nelson Dodd near Mt. Vernon while girls will go to Camp Pittenger, Tiffin Y camp at McCutchenville.

Girls will be able to attend only one camp session. That will run from July 27 through Aug. 3. Price of the one-week session will be $19.50. Boys will be sent from the Marion Y to Nelson Dodd during five periods. The first will run from June 15 through June 22. The second period will be from June 22 to July 4, the third from July 6 to July 18, the fourth from July 20 to July 27 and the fifth and final period will be from July 27 to Aug. 3. Cost of the seven-day periods will be $23 while that of the 12-day sessions will be $36.50.

Parents may register their children for the camping sessions any time at the YMCA.

Ludwig added that plans were expected to be completed in the near future for the annual day camp program of the Y.

Indians Near Major League Mark After Double Win

Within Two Victories Of Consecutive Win Mark

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's rampaging Indians, baseball's only unbeaten team, are closing in on the major league record for consecutive victores at the start of a season.

At the same time, Detroit's Tigers are on their way to a record in reverse—that of loosing the most games from opening day

Combining brilliant pitching with long-range hitting, Al Lopez' win-happy Tribe Sunday swept a doubleheader from the toothless Tigers, 3-2 and 7-2, for their sixth and seventh triumphs in succession.

Cleveland needs two more wins to equal the record of nine that the 1944 St. Louis Browns, 1918 New York Giants and 1940 Brooklyn Dodgers reeled off right at the start.

Detroit, without a victory in its first seven games, is more than halfway to its own major league record of 13 consecutive losses in the start of the 1920 campaign. The Tigers, only big league club never to finish in the cellar, are there now, seven full games behind the pace-setting Indians.

Both Go Distance

Bob Lemon and Steve Gromek each went the distance to make it five complete games for Cleveland hurlers in seven starts. Lemon yielded seven hits in the opener for his second triumph. Gromek permitted five for his first.

Luke Easter's homer in the ninth, his third in three days, broke up a pitching duel between Lemon and Art Houtteman. The Indians unloaded four round trippers in the nightcap. Al Rosen hit two and Pete Reiser and Ray Boone one each. Reiser subbed for Larry Doby, who pulled a muscle in his right thigh in the opener.

But a glance backward indicates this can't go on forever. In the pennant year, 1948, they won six straight, then dropped four. Last year, they won seven of their first eight games, wound up in second place.

The first game of Sunday's doubleheader was a good example of how luck and skill make an unbeatable combination.

In the ninth inning, with the score 2-2, the Tigers had Joe Ginsburg on first, Cliff Mapes on third, nobody out, and Pinch Hitter George Lerchen at bat.

Lerchen belted a liner off Bob Lemon, clearly ticketed for a single, but shortstop Merrill Combs caught the ball, then threw to Al Rosen who doubled Mapes at third. That, in large measure, is luck.

Homers In Ninth

Luke Easter's gamewinning homer in the Indians' half of that inning, for a 3-2 victory, supplied the power part of the formula. It was a heartbreaker for Art Houtteman, the losing pitcher.

The 7-2 second game triumph was achieved by old fashioned power and skill. Al Rosen socked two homers in a row, his first of the season. Ray Boone swatted his first homer. So did Pete Reiser.

The Tigers used four pitchers in the second game—Dizzy Trout, Hal White, Billy Hoeft and Dick Littlefield, with Trout taking the loss. Steve Gromek was the winner in his first start of this year.

The Indians also had a piece of bad luck. Larry Doby pulled a muscle in the right thigh running out a double in the fourth inning of the opener. He played two more innings, then was taken out for the remainder of the day.

Manager Al Lopez says if the leg doesn't improve today, Doby will not make the trip to St Louis for a two-game series with the Browns. At best, he said, Doby will be taken along strictly as a pinch hitter.

That will put Reiser in center, a job he appears well capable of handling. His home" was his first in the American League.

The Brooklyn Dodgers had their unbeaten skein snapped at five when Sal (The Barber) Maglie pitched the New York Giants to a 6-0 victory. Maglie limited the hard-hitting Brooks to two singles.

Cincinnati won twice in Pittsburgh, 8-6 and 12-2. Ted Kluszewski, slugging Cincinnati first baseman, had a field day at bat with two homeruns and two triples to drive in nine runs.

Garver Posts Shutout

Ned Garver hurled his second shutout in two starts for the St Louis Browns, who split a twin bill with the Chicago White Sox. Garver held the Sox to two safeties as the Browns won the first game, 8-0. Chicago won the second game, 10-2, with darkness halting it at the end of seven innings. The biggest Brownie home crowd since 1944 — 25,081 — watched the twinbill.

A home run by Pinch Hitter Billy Goodman with two on in the seventh gave the Boston Red Sox a 6-3 victory over Washington. Boston's sixth win in seven games gave Southpaw Mel Parnell his second triumph of the season and his 16th straight over the Senators.

The New York Yankees whipped the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-6, to halt a three-game losing streak and extend the Athletics' losing skein to four.

Ferris Fain, American League's leading hitter last year, went hitless. The Philadelphia first baseman now has gone 21 times without a hit this season.

Steve Bilko hit a home run with Enos Slaughter on base in the fifth inning to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 victory over the Cubs in Chicago.

The Boston Braves and Philadelphia Phillies split. Del Ennis' tenth-inning triple gave the Phils a 4-3 win in the opener, but his error in the eighth inning of the nightcap helped the Braves win, 2-1.

LaRance, Chene Meet at Armory

Larry Chene and Jules LaRance will be matched in the main event of Thursday's wrestling card at the Marion armory. LaRance's title will not be at stake.

Edmund Francis and George Macricostas will meet in the 60-minute semi-final. Nick Roberts and Frank Hurley will tangle in the 30-minute opener. Both weigh in at 225.

Open Play in North, South Golf Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — There was no standout favorite as North and South Amateur Golf tournament qualifying play began today, but it was not because of a scarcity of candidates.

Actually, the fast field listed too many potential winners that the 52nd staging of this event looked like one of the most wide open in history.

The defending champion, Hobart Manley, long-hitting Savannah, Ga., ace, has the shot with which to repeat.

His 1951 finals opponent, Billy Joe Patton of Morgantown, N. C., loser by one up in 36 holes, also has strong support. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, winner in 1946 and '49 and a finalist in other years, is always dangerous over the trying 7,007 yards of the No. 2 Country Club course, a par 72 layout.

GETS JOE'S UNIFORM. At Yankee Stadium, New York, Joe DiMaggio turns over his far-famed No. 5 uniform and glove to Rolan Spraken, vice-president of the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y. The Yankee Clipper retired from baseball last year and now is a sports commentator.

Browns Say Hurt Back Will Be OK

CLEVELAND (AP) — Back Tommy James will be released from the hospital in Massillon in two weeks, his team, the Cleveland Browns, announced today.

James was injured in an automobile accident last Thursday at Massillon. The Browns said in a statement. "His speech has returned and he recognizes visitors. He does not have a skull fracture, but did suffer a severe concussion. Only the fact that he was thrown out of the car saved his life."

Pirates Seek Eighth Morrow County Title

CARDINGTON—The Cardington Pirates will be after their eighth baseball championship at the local diamond in the Morrow County Baseball Tournament tonight, April 23 and 28 and May 1, according to County Supt. T. A. Gantz. Participating schools in addition to Cardington are Marengo, Chesterville, Elison, Johnsville and Iberia.

The Annual Sparta Relays, a track carnival for Class B schools in Morrow County and surrounding areas, will be held April 26 at the Mt. Vernon Stadium. R. O. Roberts, Sparta High School coach is the relays director.

Galion's Baseballers Win Sixth; Edge Anthony Wayne

Special to The Star

GALION—Galion High School Tigers baseball team took a two-game series from Anthony Wayne here Friday night and Saturday afternoon. The win, Saturday afternoon, 6-5, was the sixth straight victory for the Tigers. They have no losses.

Randall Vance pitched for the Tigers, fanning seven batters, although he had allowed seven hits. It was Vance's second victory.

In Friday night's game, Bill Enders pitched a no-hit, 5-1, game against the visitors who remained overnight in Galion for Saturday's game.

In the first inning, Saturday, the Tigers banged out four hits off of Jerome Navarre, an error and two bases on balls. They were leading 5-0 when they went into the third inning. Scherer reached first on a walk and went to second on an error. He stole third and came home on a balk by Navarre.

Wayne's first score was made in the fourth when Bill Miller singled and was doubled around by Jim Stayer. A rally in the seventh by Anthony Wayne brought in four men for a close score, 6-5. On an error, Navarre made first, and went to second when Miller walked. Thomas walked to load the bases, and Straver brought in the men with a double. Bucher singled Stayer home, but Vance retired the side.

First Little League Tryouts Set Today

The first tryout session for boys interested in Little League baseball play this summer is set for today at Lincoln Park.

Boys living in the American League, west section of Marion, and in the age group 10 or under will take part in the first session. The tryouts will be started at 5 p. m. The 10-year-old or under age group in the National League or East sections of Marion will tryout Tuesday night.

Association Pleads For End Of Unfair Treatment

HOT SPRINGS, Va (AP)—The National Association of Collegiate Commissioners wants to abolish "unfair treatment' of officials at athletic contests and is going to back the National Collegiate Athletic Association to the limit in eliminating rules infractions.

The commissioners of the nation's 10 major conferences closed out their four-day annual meeting here Sunday by passing a resolution urging spectators and coaches to maintain an "attitude of fair play" toward the officials, particularly in football and basketball games.

"It is becoming increasingly difficult to enlist and retain the services of capable officials in college sports because of the unfair treatment frequently accorded officials by coaches and spectators," the resolution said." Satisfactory competition is impossible without officiating of the highest competence . . ."

Brodowski Posts Win at Columbus

By The Associated Press

Milwaukee was the only American Association team to sweep a Sunday doubleheader. While the others split their games the Brewers vaulted into second place with a 4-1 record.

League leading Indianapolis lost its first decision of the season, 5-3, to the Toledo Mudhens, but rebounded for a 4-2 nightcap decision. This left the Indians ½ game ahead of Milwaukee with a 5-1 mark.

The Brews had to go 12 innings to grab a 5-4 opening victory from St. Paul. They won the second game 6-5.

At Toledo, Ken Kuettler gave the Hens an early lead with a three-run homer in the first inning in their victory over the Tribe. Indianapolis sealed the second game in the sixth on Hero Conyers' three-run circuit smash.

Kansas City's Ed Erault held Minneapolis to three hits as the Blues scored a 6-1 opening win.

In the afterpiece, Al Corwin led the Millers to a 7-1 decision with a four-hit chore.

Columbus ended a four-game losing streak with a 9-7 win over Louisville, but dropped the second game 6-3. Charlie Kress' three-run homer and Wally Lammers' bases-loaded double supported the Red Birds' drive for their triumph of the season.

Rookie Dick Brodowski tamed the flock in the second game although yielding nine hits. His Louisville mates backed him with a five-run outburst off six hits in the third round.

No games are scheduled today.

TRADE RUMORED

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Herald said today Catcher Joe Tipton of the Philadelphia Athletics may be traded to the Boston Red Sox for Infielder Fred Hatfield and Outfielder Ken Wood. Boston had been trying to get Tipton—a 30-year-old veteran of service with Cleveland and Chicago as well as the A's—for Hatfield and a "big-name infielder or pitcher," the newspaper said, until A's Outfielder Allie Clark suffered a broken wrist last Saturday here. Clark's injury, the Herald added, brought Wood into the picture while Tipton "was making inquiries about an apartment near the Sox Park."

The 30th annual Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Championships will be held during the week of June 16 on the courts of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Reds Sweep Two Games From Pirates

Kluszewski, Adcock Smash Two Homers In Doubleheader

CINCINNATI (AP) — If the Cincinnati Reds keep up their present pace much longer they'll have to dust off the old Murderer's Row" label for the usually weak-hitting Rhinelanders.

The Reds soared into second place in the National League by taking a doubleheader from Pittsburgh Sunday, 8 to 6 and 12 to 2, and they gave the Pirate hurlers a terrific pounding.

Here is the big angle, however. In winning four of their first six games the Reds have clubbed opposing pitchers for 11 home runs, five triples and eight doubles.

All of which adds up to some lusty clouting in any man's league.

The home runs have been spread among six different players. Seven different players have accounted for the doubles and four have hit triples.

So it hasn't been a one or two-man job of slugging.

The big men Sunday were Joe Adcock and Ted Kluszewski. Kluszewski cracked out two home runs and two triples in the two games and drove in nine runs. Adcock got two home runs.

Kluszewski made a solemn promise in spring training that the 1952 baseball season would be different by golly. And, by golly, he meant every word.

Breaks Slump

Cincinnati's slump-ridden first baseman, couldn't buy a hit last season and had little success this year—until Sunday's doubleheader.

His big swat was a grand slammer off Southpaw Howie Pollet in the fifth inning of the nightcap. He also collected a pair of triples in the second game. That brought his RBI output in four games against the Bucs to 12.

In the first contest, the 230-pound native of Argo, Ill., got his first home run of the season. It came in the eighth inning off Murry Dickson, an old hand at tossing home run melons.

"You know those hits made me feel pretty good," commented Kluszewski afterwards. "I feel like a new man. But I knew something had to snap."

Kluszewski's surge gave him 11 hits in 25 times at bat thus far — a far cry from his puny performance last year when he had to struggle all the way to keep his average above .250.

Equally hot with the bat has been Grady Hatton. Hatton got four out of nine Sunday and he now has collected 12 hits in 26 times at bat. Two of his blows have been homers and one has been a double.

Bobby Adams isn't far behind with 10 for 28 and he has collected two homers and two doubles.

Smith Shelled

The Reds were staggering at the finish of the first game but they never gave the Pirates a chance in the second tilt. In the opener, Harry Perkowski had a well-pitched shutout working for seven innings but the Bucs drove him to cover with three runs in the eighth and then they got three more in the ninth off Frank Smith before Bud Byerly finally got the side out.

The Pirates had the tying runs on base when the game ended.

Frank Hiller went all the way in the second game and the Reds legs had built up an 8 to 0 lead before he yielded the Pirates' two runs. Kluszewski's second game home run came with the bases full.

This was an off day for Cincinnati and the Reds will play their first night game against the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night. Ken Raffensberger, who hurled a shutout in his first start, is slated to pitch against Cliff Chambers.

Softball Drawings Set Tonight at Y

A meeting of the Marion Recreational Softball Commission and all managers and representatives of teams playing in the 1952 softball program will be held tonight at the YMCA at 7:30.

Drawings for each league, schedule make-up and deadline dates for fees and entry blanks will be held at the meeting.

The four softball leagues are scheduled to get under way Monday, May 5 as the six team Church League stages three games under the lights at Garfield Park.

The Church League is the only league with openings for new teams. Churches desiring information concerning entry of a softball team for this season should be in attendance at the meeting tonight.

PGA Ponders Rift in Ranks

CHICAGO (AP) — The hierarchy of the Professional Golfers Association will meet today to ponder what apparently is a growing rift in its tournament ranks.

Attending the meetings, which are scheduled to last three days, will be Fred Corcoran who served as tournament director from 1936-47 before being deposed. Corcoran built up the tourney tour from $80,000 to $600,000.

Corcoran last month reportedly signed a contract with the PGA tournament committee to assist in relations between touring golf stars and touring sponsors. Corcoran plans to set up a new PGA Promotional Bureau in New York but reportedly seeks official sanction from the executive committee.

PGA officers, headed by President Horton Smith, tournament-sponsoring organizations and members of the tournament committee will be present at the meetings.

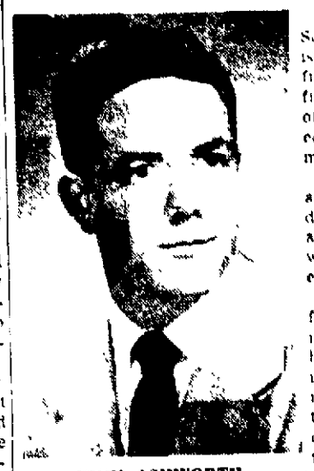
Prexy Miler Leads Ohio Runners at Mansfield



JOHN ASHWORTH

John Ashworth, Harding High School's ace distance runner, finished third in the annual Mansfield Relays Saturday at Mansfield. He turned in his best mark of the season at 4:35.05 but was edged out by two out-of-state milers.

Bob Cherry of Mt. Lebanon, Pa. and Don McClintock of Scottsdale Pa. managed to come in just ahead of the Harding flash. Ashworth led the Ohio runners, however.

Ashworth also finished in a fifth place tie in the 880 yard run. He finished first in three heats but was boxed in the crowd in the final heat. A terrific drive in the stretch fell short of overtaking the winners. Ashworth came in in a time of "05 while the winning time was 2:04.

Jack Boxwell finished sixth in the discus throw with a mark of 129 feet, six inches. Paul Geissler won preliminary races in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and the 180-yard low hurdles. He was edged out in the stretch of the 100 and 220.

The Harding mile relay team came in sixth in that event. Wearing Harding colors in the race were Dick Tway, Glen Craft, Tom Morton and Ted Price.

The Harding runners will meet Mt. Vernon Tuesday night and will travel to Fremont Friday for the annual Fremont Night Relays. Harding will be defending champion at the Fremont Relays and Coach Ken Samerlot is expecting the most trouble from Sandusky. That school and Harding have been the top teams at the meet for three years.

Cleveland's New Grid Star Plays Piano, Too

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns' new star, Quarterback George Ratterman, can play something else besides football a piano.

Ratterman also is a lawyer, a broker, a radio and TV sportscaster, and ex-coach of St. Bonaventure College.

With the New York Yanks, in 1950, he led the National League in two departments— 294 pass attempts for 2,251 yards. He was acquired from Dallas Saturday.

Chillicothe Team 9th In Bowling Tourney

DAYTON, O. (AP)—The Model Dairy team of Chillicothe rolled a 3,041 for ninth place in team standings in the next-to-the-last week end of the Ohio State Men's Handicap Bowling Tournament in Dayton.

Gale Richey of Akron and John Chaplin of Cuyahoga Falls each got 1,837 to tie for second place in the all-events. Dick Hoover of Akron led with 1,917.

TO JOIN OILERS

LAWRENCE, Kas. (AP) — Clyde Lovellette, All-American basketball center, says he will join the Phillips Petroleum Company and play on the firm's AAU cage team. Lovellette said Sunday night he would join the company's sales department June 1 after he graduates from the University of Kansas. "It seems to me that there is a much more secure future in a job such as this than there is in professional basketball," he said.

Floods

the beehive activity. About all we lack is the mosquitos."

Includes Instructors

The flood fighters even included instructors at the Army's command and general staff school at Fort Leavenworth.

While the Army fought the Sherman Field battle, tricky Missouri Valley weather posed new problems on 700 miles of the flooding river

What worried the flood fighters was the question: how much will it rain? and where?

All the experts would say was that a chance of heavy rain exists. But they couldn't tell yet whether it would hit the Missouri Basin, especially the overloaded area from St. Joseph to Kansas City.

Even if it rained a full inch in the Kaw (Kansas) Basin, they said, it would raise the Missouri at Kansas City only about a foot. That would still be well below the level of the protecting dikes were built to stand.

The Kaw, a fast acting river, was what gave Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kas., their worst flood when it poured into the Missouri here last July. It's rolling along at a low level now.

Believe City Safe

Brig. Gen. D. G. Shingler, division engineer at Omaha, stuck to his prediction that Kansas City would be safe this time. But while the downstream battle was not as spectacular as the fight to save Omaha and Council Bluffs last week, it was still a hard one. Men still fought to confine the river which has driven thousands from their homes and caused millions of dollars of damage.

"We really have one terrific flood," Shingler said after an aerial survey. "Today we're in flood stage from Blair, Neb., above Omaha almost to the mouth near St. Charles — a distance of about 700 miles."

Another weather threat developed on the northern Mississippi River. A flood crest of 15.3 feet—lower than originally predicted—reached La Crosse, Wis., Sunday.

Soggy dikes held but repair work went on around the clock. Weatherman A. D. Sanial said today and Tuesday would be critical times there because the river won't start dropping much until Tuesday night.

A wind which might climb to a stiff 25 miles an hour was forecast for today in that area. That would pile up the waves and let them slosh against the eroding dikes.

Students Win Top Ratings

Harding Musicians In State Finals

Superior and excellent ratings were given to all 25 Harding High School students who competed in the state final auditions of the Ohio Music Education Association held in Lancaster Saturday.

Superior ratings, the highest awarded, were received by the string quartet composed of Wilma Goebel, Barbara Wolf, John Gantt and Steve Lacey; and the string trio, Wilma Goebel, Steve Lacey and Colleen Wooten.

The three soloists entered received top ratings also. They are Wilma Goebel, violin; Julia Gorman, flute, and Eddie Porter, tuba.

Ratings of excellent, second highest, were awarded to a brass sextette composed of Tom Tatham, Jerry Emory, Steve Lytle, Tom Hayman, Jim Ferguson, and Eddie Porter; a woodwind quintet, Julia Gorman, Kay Montgomery, Susan Williams, Carol Bachman and Martha Mason; and a clarinet quartet, Erwin Seckle, Don Couch, Regina Cleveland and Pat Clingenpeel.

Accompanying the students to Lancaster were Homer Huffman, director of instrumental music in the city schools, and George Lane, assistant director.

HOT-RODDER SUSPECTED

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—Police searched for a hot-rod with a double exhaust pipe after Walter Becker reported someone stole the muffler from his tractor. Police theorized the culprit wanted the muffler for a hot-rod exhaust.

Marion Man Elected By Reserve Officers

Lt. Col. Lawrence H. Larsen of Marion was elected vice president for the Army of the Ohio Department, Reserve Officers Association, as the organization closed a three-day annual meeting Sunday in Cleveland.

More than 300 Army, Air Force, Navy and Coast Guard officers were present and heard Major General Lawrence C. Jaynes, special assistant to the army chief of staff for civilian components, Washington, address the session.

Elected president of the Association was Lt. John A. Bradner of Shaker Heights, O., former vice president.

Lt. Col. Larsen resides at 290 S. Grand Ave. and is employed with the Ohio Edison Co. as rural farm representative.

MEETING PEOPLE AND DEVELOPING PERSONALITY

How many persons do you suppose the average individual meets in a lifetime?

Whatever this number is, one thing seems certain: Success in any field depends to a large extent on a person's ability to meet and get along with others.

Because this can only be accomplished through actual practice, a Marion Star route offers carrier salesmen the chance to learn while young, how to get along with people through actually meeting them.

Silly items in your memory account soon change to character building items.

Cancer

ments at yesterday's services in support of the campaign.

Half of the money raised will support activities of the Marion Cancer Clinic, where free cancer-detection examinations are conducted weekly by Marion physicians who donate their services, and to maintain a cancer information center which is open every Tuesday afternoon at the YMCA The other half goes to national research, medical training and other broad, long-range phases of the fight against cancer.

Here are a few quick facts which show why cancer requires special funds and special education:

Cancer strikes one in five . . . on that basis, some 9,000 Marion County residents will have a cancer problem during their life.

Cancer is the biggest killer of children between the ages of 9 and 14, barring accidents.

Someone dies of cancer every two and one-half minutes; cancer killed 215,000 persons last year. In America today, 600,000 persons are under treatment for cancer.

One-third of today's cancer deaths are needless and preventable . . . part of the job of cancer crusades is to encourage examinations which permit early dection and effective treatment. Cancer frequently is in advanced stages before the patient gets a warning signal.

"Too Tight," Says Lodi School Board, Bans Blue Jeans

LODI, O. (AP)—Jeannie with the light brown hair—and all her Lodi High School sisters—aren't going to wear jeans to school any more.

At least, that's what the Lodi School Board says.

The board outlawed jeans for class room wear from the seventh grade on up.

"They were getting too tight," said Schools Supt Wilbur Wood, "and a pair of tight jeans invites familiarity. Too many girls were getting pinched or patted.

"The board acted toward better decorum, and we think we're getting it. The girls took it well."

But, not everyone agreed with Wood. Many protests came from parents and students.

"That's what he thinks," replied Linda Johnson, 15-year-old freshman, "We think the order is silly."

Linda said jeans were "sort of a fad" for Friday wear at Lodi High. "It began with football pep meetings last fall," she said "Just about every girl in school wears them but we don't wear them all the time"

The school board said the girls may not wear them any of the time.

When European and American powers attempted to abolish the slave trade in the early 19th century, traders often threw Negroes into the sea when capture seemed imminent and it is estimated that two thirds of the Negroes shipped from Africa at this time were murdered at sea.

AUCTION
EVERGREENS AND NURSERY STOCK
Thursday Evening, April 24, 1952
beg nning at 7:30 o'clock p.m.
Mill St. Auction Co.
123 E. Mill St.
Marion, Ohio.

NOW IS THE PROPER TIME TO PLANT and a general line of NURSERY STOCK, will be offered at this sale. Such as numerous kinds of EVERGREENS, in various sizes and varieties. Peach, Apple, Sweet and Sour Cherry, Plum, Pear, Apricot, and Nectarine trees. Various kinds of: Flowering-Shrubs, Roses and Shade trees. Raspberries, Blackberries, Strawberries, Boysenberries, Blueberries, several varieties of Grapes, Gooseberries, Currants, Asparagus, Rhubarb and Horseradish and other items too numerous to mention. However, the sale will consist mainly of EVERGREENS, for use in modern landscape planting. Come early and inspect this stock to your own satisfaction. These plants are Government Inspected, and guaranteed to be dug fresh. Anyone interested in landscape material cannot afford to miss this opportunity as you will find it sells very reasonable. Many thrifty people take advantage of these sales, each season, as a few dollars spent for landscaping material will increase the value of your property many times over the cost. A Certified copy of certificate of inspection, will be given each purchaser. A Representative of the Nursery will be present.

Come, you are invited and welcome.

Clyde Wilson, Auct.

Group Fails To Kill $2 Bill

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States may be headed for $32 million worth of trouble.

At least, superstitious persons and other enemies of the $2 bill think so. An Anti-$2 bill group failed to block the printing of 16 million more of the notes planned for the coming fiscal year.

During a House appropriations sub-committee hearing, Rep Benjamin F. James (R-Pa.) said he had received only 10 of the bills in 25 years and has kept them all. He suggested it would be cheaper to do away with the $2 notes and save on engraving plates, forms and records.

Mrs Georgia Neese Clark, treasurer of the United States, came to the rescue of the bill which bears the portrait of Thomas Jefferson. She and Walter L. Funk, budget chief in her office, said the bill is still in demand, especially in New England and that 33,742,133 bills are in use.

Although there are many more—exceeding one billion—$1 bills in circulation, the $2 backers won the day after explaining it "just costs half as much to issue one $2 bill as it does two $1 bills."
